POETRY.

DEATH.

We know when gentle spring will come,
And when the winter cold,
And when the wither'd leaves will lie
Upon the frosty mould.

We know when tender violets fade,
And when the primrose dies,
And when the glimmering stars will shine
And set amid the skies.

But who is he can tell the hour
When the dread foe shall come,
To sweep away the sons of earth,
And shroud them in the tomb?

He waits not till the limbs are old,
Or till the hair is grey;
Ah, no! The young and beautiful
He makes as oft his prey.

He tears the infant from the breast,
He slays the blooming bride,
When she before the altar stands,
Her lover by her side.

Morning and eve, both day and night,
He goeth forth to slay;
And every hour some victim new
He seizes for his prey.

Go where you will, he still is there,
On earth, or on the deep,
Whether the waves tempestuous rise
Or sink in gentle sleep.

He comes among the festive throng,
Where grace and beauty shine;
He steals into the banquet hall.
'Mid revel, mirth and wine.

Into our peaceful home he glides;
He's where the plumes wave high,
Where trumpets bray, and lances gleam,
And banners float the sky.

Sure quencher of the struggling breath,
Dark dimmer of the eye;
Ah! who can tell the fatal hour
When he is hovering nigh?

THE CONTESTED MARRIAGE.

I had just escaped to my chamber one winter afternoon from a heavy trial 'at bar' in the King's Bench, Westminster, and was pouring over a case upon which an 'opinion' was urgently solicited, when my clerk entered with a letter which he had been requested to deliver by a lady, who had called twice before during the day for the purpose of seeing me. Vexed at the interruption, I almost snatched the letter from the man's hand, hastily broke the seal, and to my great surprise found it was from my excellent old friend Sir Jasper Thornley, of Thornley Hall, Lancashire. It ran as follows:—

MY DEAR ——, The bearer of this note is a lady whom I am desirous of serving to the utmost extent of my ability. That she is really the widow she represents herself to be, and her son consequently heir to the magnificent estates now in possession of the Emsdales—you remember how they tripped up my heels at the last election for the borough of ——! I have no moral doubt whatever; but whether her claim can be legally established is another affair. She will tell you the story herself. It was a heartless business; but Sir Harry, who, you have no doubt heard broke his neck in a steeple-chase about ten months ago, was a sad wild dog. My advice is, to look out for a sharp, clever, persevering attorney, and set him upon a hunt for evidence. If he succeed, I undertake to pay him a thousand pounds over and above his legal costs. He'll nose it out for that, I should think!

Yours truly, JASPER THORNLEY.

P. S.—Emsdale's son. I have just heard—confound their impudence!—intends, upon the strength of this accession of property, to stand for the county against my old friend ——, at the dissolution which cannot now be far off.—If you don't think one thousand pounds enough, I'll double it. A cruelly ill used lady! and as to her son, he's the very image of the late Sir Harry Compton. In haste,—J. T. I reopen the letter to enclose a cheque for a hundred pounds, which you will pay the attorney on account. They'll die hard, you may be sure. If it could come off next assizes, we should spoil them for the county,—J. P.

'Assizes'—'county'—'Sir Harry Compton,' I involuntary murmured, as I finished the perusal of my old friend's incoherent epistle.—'What on earth can the eccentric old fox-hunter mean?' 'Show the lady in,' I added in a louder tone to the clerk. She presently appeared accompanied by a remarkably handsome boy about six years of age, both attired in deep mourning. The lady approached with a timid, furtive step and glance, as if she were entering the den of some grim ogre, rather than the quiet study of a civilized lawyer of mature age. I was at once struck by her singular and touching loveliness. I have never seen a woman that so completely realized the highest Madonna type of youthful matronly beauty—its starlight radience and mild serenity of sorrow. Her voice, too, gentle and low, had a tone of patient sadness in it strangely affecting. She was evidently a person, if not of high birth, of refined manners and cultivated mind; and I soon ceased to wonder at warm hearted old Jasper's enthusiasm in her cause. Habitually, however, on my guard against first impressions, I courteously but coldly invited her first to a seat, and next to a more intelligible relation of her business with me than could be gathered from the letter of which she was the bearer. She complied, and I was soon in possession of the following facts and fancies:

Violet Dalston and her sister Emily had lived for several years in close and somewhat straightened retirement with their father, Captain Dalston, at Rock Cottage, on the outskirts of a village about six miles distant from Leeds, when Captain Dalston, who was an enthusiastic angler, introduced to his home a gentleman about twenty-five years of age, of handsome exterior and gentlemanly manners, with whom congeniality of tastes and pursuits had made him acquainted. This stranger was introduced to Violet (my interesting client) and her sister, as a Mr. Henry Grainger, the son of a London merchant. The object of his wanderings through the English counties, was, he said, to recruit his health, which had become affected by too close application to business, and to gratify his taste for angling, sketching, and so on. He became a frequent visitor; and the result, after the lapse of about three months, was a proposal for the hand of Violet. His father allowed him, he stated, five hundred pounds per annum; but in order not to mortally offend the old gentleman, who was determined, if his son married at all, it should be either to rank or riches, it would be necessary to conceal the marriage till after his death. This commonplace story had been, it appeared, implicitly credited by Captain Dalston; and Violet Dalston and Henry Grainger were united in holy wedlock—not in the village church near where Captain Dalston resided, but in one of the Leeds churches. The witnesses were the bride's father and sister, and a Mr. Bilston, a neighbor. This marriage had taken place rather more than seven years since, and its sole fruit was the fine looking boy who accompanied his mother to my office. Mr. Grainger, soon after the marriage, persuaded the Dalstons to leave Rock Cottage, and take up their abode in a picturesque village in Cumberland, where he had purchased a small house, with some garden and ornamental grounds attached.

Five years rolled away—not, as I could discern, too happily—when the very frequent absences of Violet's husband in London, as he alleged (all her letters to him were directed to the post office, St. Martin's le Grand—till called for) were suddenly greatly prolonged; and on his return home, after an absence of more than three months, he abruptly informed the family that the affairs of his father, who was dying, had been found to be greatly embarrassed, and that nothing was left for him and them but emigration to America, with such means as might be saved from the elder Grainger's property. After much opposition and lamentation on the part of Emily Dalston and her father, it was finally conceded as Violet's husband wished; and the emigration was to have taken place on the following spring, Henry Grainger to follow them the instant he could wind up his father's affairs. About 3 months before their intended departure—this very time twelvemonth, as nearly as may be—Captain Dalston was suddenly called to London, to close the eyes of an only sister. This sad duty fulfilled, he was about to return, when, passing towards dusk down St. James street, he saw Henry Grainger, habited in a remarkable sporting dress, standing with several other gentlemen at the door of one of the club houses. Hastening across the street to accost him, he was arrested for a minute or two by a line of carriages which turned sharply out of Piccadilly; and when he did reach the other side, young Mr. Grainger and his companions had vanished. He inquired of the porter, and was assured that no Mr. Grainger senior or junior was known there. Persisting that he had seen him standing within the doorway, and describing his dress, the man with an insolent laugh exclaimed that the gentleman who wore that dress was the famous sporting baronet. Sir Henry Compton!

Bewildered and suspecting, he hardly knew what: Captain Dalston, in defiance of young Grainger's oft-iterated injunctions, determined to call at his father's residence, which he had always understood to be in Leadenhall street. No such name was, however, known there, and an examination, to which he was advised, of the 'Commercial Directory' failed to discover the whereabouts of the pretended London merchant. Heart-sick and spirit-wearied, Captain Dalston returned home only to die. A violent cold, caught by imprudently riding in such bitter weather as it then was, on the outside of the coach, aggravated by distress of mind, brought his already enfeebled frame to the grave in less than two months after his arrival in Cumberland. He left his daughters unprovided for, except by the legal claim which the eldest possessed on a man who, he feared, would turn out to be a worthless impostor. The penalty he paid for consenting to so imprudent a marriage was indeed a heavy and bitter one. Months passed away, and still no tidings of Violet's husband reached the sister's sad and solitary home.—At length, stimulated by apprehensions of approaching destitution—whose foot was already on the threshold—and desirous of gratifying a whim of Emily's, Violet consented to visit the neighborhood of Compton Castle (the seat, her sister had ascertained, of the 'celebrated sporting baronet,' as the porter called him,) on their way to London, where they had relatives who, though not rich, might be able to assist them in obtaining some decent means of maintenance. They alighted at the 'Compton Arms,' and the first object which met the astonished gaze of the sisters as they entered the principal sitting room of the inn was a full length portrait of Violet's husband, in the exact sporting-dress described to them by their father. An ivory tablet attached to the lower part of the frame informed the gazer that the picture was a copy, by permission, of the celebrated portrait by Sir Thomas Lawrence, of Sir Harry Compton, Baronet. They were confounded, overwhelmed, bewildered. Sir Harry, they found, had been killed about eight months previously in a steeple-chase; and the castles and estates had passed, in default of direct issue, to a distant relative, Lord Emsdale. Their story was soon bruited about, and, in the opinion of many persons, was confirmed beyond reasonable question by the extraordinary likeness they saw or fancied between Violets son and the deceased baronet. Amongst others, Sir Jasper Thornley was a firm believer in the identity of Henry Grainger and Sir Harry Compton; but, unfortunately, beyond the assertion of the sisters that the portrait of Sir Harry was young Grainger's portrait, the real or imaginary likeness of the child to his reputed father, and some score of letters addressed to Violet by her husband, which Sir Jasper persisted were in Sir Harry's handwriting, though few others did, (the hand, I saw at glance, was a disguised one.) not one tittle of evidence had he been able to procure for love or money. As a last resource, he had consigned the case to me, and the vulpine sagacity of a London attorney.

I suppose my countenance must be what is called a 'speaking' one, for I had made no reply in words to this statement of a case upon which I and a 'London attorney' were to ground measures for wresting a magnificent estate from the clutch of a powerful nobleman, and by 'next assizes' too—when the lady's beautiful eyes filled with tears, and turning to her child, she murmured in that gentle, agitating voice of hers, 'My poor boy!' The words I was about to utter died on my tongue, and I remained silent for several minutes.—After all, thought I, this lady is evidently sincere, in her expressive conviction that Sir Harry Compton was her husband. If her surmise be correct, evidence of the truth may perhaps be obtained by a keen search for it; and since Sir Jasper guarantees the expense —— I rang the bell. 'Step over to Cursitor street,' said I to the clerk as soon as he entered, 'and if Mr. Ferret is within, ask him to step over immediately.' Ferret was just the man for such commission. Indefatigable, resolute, sharp-witted, and of a ceaseless, remorseless activity, a secret or a fact had need be very profoundly riddled for him not to reach and fish it up. I have heard solemn doubts expressed by attorneys opposed to him as to whether he ever really and truly slept at all—that is, a genuine Christian sleep, as distinguished from a merely canine one, with one eye always half open. Mr. Ferret had been for many years Mr. Simpkins' managing clerk; but ambition, and the increasing requirements of a considerable number of young Ferrets, determined him on commencing business on his own account; and about six months previous to the period of which I am now writing, a brass door-plate in Cursitor street, Chancery Lane, informed the public that Samuel Ferret, Esq., attorney-at-law, might be consulted within.

Mr. Samuel Ferret was fortunately at home; and after a very brief interval, made his appearance, entering with a short professional bow to me, and a very profound one to the lady, in whom his quick gray eye seemed intuitively to espy a client. As soon as he was seated, I handed him Sir Jasper's letter. He perused it carefully three times, examined the seal attentively, and handed back with—'An excellent letter as far as it goes, and very much to the point. You intend, I suppose, that I should undertake this little affair?'

'Yes, if, after hearing the lady's case, you feel disposed to venture upon it.'

Mr. Samuel Ferret's note-book was out in an instant; and the lady, uninterrupted by a syllable from him, re-told her story.

'Good, very good, as far as it goes,' remarked undismayed Samuel Ferret when she concluded; 'only it can scarcely be said to go very far. Moral presumption, which, in our courts unfortunately, isn't worth a groat.—Never mind. Magna est veritas. and so on.—When, madam, did you say Sir Harry—Mr. Grainger—first began to urge emigration?'

'Between two and three years ago.'

'Have the goodness, if you please, to hand me the baronetage.' I did so. 'Good,' resumed Ferret, after turning over the leaves for a few seconds, 'very good as far as it goes. It is now just two years and eight months since Sir Harry succeeded his uncle in the title and estates. You would no dobt soon have heard, madam, that your husband was dead. Truly the heart of man is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; yet such conduct towards such a lady.'——Ferret intended no mere compliment; he was only giving utterance to the thoughts passing thro' his brain; but his client's mounting color warned him to change the topic, which he very adritly did. 'You intend, of course,' said he, addressing me, to 'to proceed at law? No rumble-tumble through the spiritual courts?'

'Certainly, if sufficient evidence to justify such a course can be obtained.'

'Exactly; Doe, demise of Compton, versus Emsdale; action in ejectment, judgment of ouster. Our friend Doe, madam—a very accommodating fellow is Doe, will, if we succeed, put you in possession as natural guardian of your son. 'Well, sir,' turning to me, 'I may as well give you an acknowledgment for that cheque. I undertake the business, and shall, if possible, be off to Leeds by this evening's mail.' The acknowledgment was given and Mr. Ferret, pocketing the cheque, departed in high glee.

'The best man, madam, in all broad London,' said I in answer to Mrs. Grainger's somewhat puzzled looked, 'you could have retained. Fond as he seems, and in fact is, of money—what sensible person is not?—Lord Elmsdale could not bribe him with his earldom, now that he is fairly engaged in your behalf, I will not say to betray you, but to abate his indefatigable activity in furtherance of your interest Attorneys madam, be assured, whatever nursery tales may teach, have, the very sharpest of them, their points of honor.' The lady and her son departed, and I turned again the almost forgotten 'case.'

No Chance for Men of Moderate Means—Dry Goods and Hardware below par—What does Sell Well—Prices Current, &c.

The subjoined extract of a private letter, the Philadelphia North American states is from a gentleman who sailed from New York with a large amount of means and merchandize, for the purpose of engaging in regular trade in San Francisco. His statements may be relied on as those of a cool and calm observer:

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1, 1849.

We are quite lively in this new city of the West. Vessels are arriving daily—most of them from down the coast and the Sandwich Islands, with full loads of anxious gold diggers and goods. Among the recent arrivals from New York are the Whiton, H. Nesmith, Sylvie de Grasse, Iowa, and Sacramento, generally in about 140 days from port to port.

Goods of some kinds sell well, and among them I may enumerate provisions, groceries, lumber, coal, wood, horses and wagons. Dry goods can be purchased as cheap, or cheaper, than in Philadelphia, and crockery, iron, glassware, and many kinds of hardware will not pay expenses. The difficulties attending the landing of goods from vessels have not been overrated, and many of the lightering scows and boats in use have been sunk by the violence of the winds. The climate is very trying on the constitution, on account of the severe changes in the atmosphere. The comforts of life are few and far between. It is impossible to realize here what you would call a good dinner—it cannot be had.—The chief reliance is upon fresh beef, and provisions brought from the States, and there are no fish, oysters or game. Add to this the fact that the labor to be done is exceedingly hard, and that to dig gold successfully one must have more than ordinary powers of endurance, and you have my experience of the gold region. Those who have made most money here are land speculators and merchants of Chili and the Islands.

Gold is plenty, but very hard to be got, and the average yield to the diggers may be set down at from one to five ounces There is no chance here for a young man of but moderate means, as it costs more to start in business than it does at home, and it must inevitably result in the disappointment of many young men coming with that purpose. Board is $16 per week, and house rent extravagant, as high as 100 to $200 per month being demanded and paid for a mere one story shed, 10 by 15 feet in dimensions. There is, besides, nothing of comfort or cleanliness, and every thing is owned and controlled by a few speculators in the town. It has been with some difficulty that I have secured a lot on which to place my store.

Silver is plenty, and small change hard to pass, but gold coin is in active demand. The country back of us is much troubled by the Indians, and even among our own community there is scarcely a sign of law or order.

In haste, yours, B.

P. S.—Land in San Francisco is very high, and lots in the business parts of the town sell at from 100 to $500 per 20 feet front by 137 deep. In Monterey lots 137 by 137 feet command from 500 to $2,500 per lot. In Bennecia City 125 by 150 feet for 1,000 to $5,000; Sacramento City 50 to $200; Stockton $50. Laboring hands are worth from 6 to $10 per day. Small houses, 10 by 20 feet in size, and one story high, rent at from 100 to $200 per month. A good store, 20 by 40, and one story high, rents for $3,000 per year.

Charges for selling goods at auction are 5 per cent; at private sale 10 per cent; on buying gold ½ per cent. Insurance, freight and commissions on gold dust to New York, 5½ per cent.

Close of the German Revolution.—The Frankfort correspondent of the Boston Atlas, under date of June 26, thus details the dispersion of the Frankfort Assembly:—

The great drama of German Revolution may now be considered as closed. The Assembly elected by the people, to found popular right against princely power, after struggling so long in vain to accomplish its task, has at length been dispersed by force of arms, and it will hardly find another spot in Germany on which to assemble again in safety. On the 17th inst. the President of the assembly received a note from the Wurtemberg Ministry, forbidding any more sittings at Stuttgard.—He called one, nevertheless, for the next day at three o'clock, in the usual place. Long before that hour, however, troops were ordered there by the Government, who immediately destroyed the interior arrangement of the building, (which had been fitted up expressly for the Assembly,) and posted themselves around to prevent all entrance. At three o'clock the members of the Assembly, who had learned the measures taken by the Government, approached, notwithstanding, all in a body, three abreast, headed by the President, (Loewe,) on one side of whom walked Uhland, the great German poet, and on the other the venerable Schott, father-in-law of Roemer, President of the Wurtemberg Ministry. On being informed that entrance to the place was forbidden, the President began to protest, declaring as traitors to the country the perpetrators of this outrage on the representatives of the people, when the drums were ordered to beat, drowning his voice. As he still insisted on proceeding the troops were ordered to advance with fixed bayonets. In the face of this the members stood firm. Uhland is said to have laid bare his breast, and called upon the soldiers to strike if they wished. The infantry refused to obey the order given, but a company of cavalry coming up at the moment, being commanded to charge, obeyed with drawn swords. The people rushed in to rescue the members, who seemed determined to be trampled under the horses' feet rather than retire. Many were in great danger, being thrown down by the horses; but, with the exception of one or two who were brutally struck by the soldiers with the flat of their swords, none were seriously injured. They then retired together to a hotel, where the next day they resolved to transfer their place of sitting to Carlshrue, in Baden, meeting there the 25th. (yesterday,) but the defeat of the Badeners by the Prussians, which has just taken place not far from this town, will make it impossible to carry out this resolution; so that it is very doubtful if the German National Assembly, which has been for the past year the centre of so many hopes, ever comes together again, at least in sufficient number to give the shade of legality to its proceedings.

Things in New York.

"Samivel Weller" has said some good things in his day, but never more truthfully than when he advertised his own gallant sex to—"beware of the vidders." It is doubly evident to me from "a case in hand" that "Sam" wasn't green about "vidders"—and, while I shall endeavor to confine myself to the facts in the case, it will also be necessary for me to suppress all real names etc.—trusting to my incognito as a shield from all harm—assassination or what not.

There was a gay company of young people boarding at No. —, B—— street, and none were respected more than Mr. and Mrs. H——: he a sucessful merchant down town, of wealth—she the only daughter of a respectable family residing in Williamsburg. To all appearances they lived devotedly attached to each other and were happy, though scarce twelve months had rolled round, since they solemnly vowed before Hymen's altar "to love, cherish, etc."—but that matters not. About a month ago a "vidder" yes, a veritable "female vidder" came on from Philadelphia to visit her aunt, the hostess of the house, and like many young and handsome "vidders" she had a pair of killing black eyes, and, in fact, almost irresistable in appearance. Her presence soon got the gents of the house on a "string"—that is, she was universally admired, and some dared even to adore her Now Mr. H. was as fine a looking man as you would meet any day, and withal a great admirer of the fair sex. Mrs. H. his wife, was a fine looking woman and intelligent, but quite retired in her manners. It was during the temporary absence of his wife to her fraternal home that Mr. H. made love to the "vidder" in good earnest, and but a few days had elapsed before he was sufficiently encouraged in his suit to prepare for an elopement to parts unknown.—It was arranged that they should go South, and accordingly Mr. H. with his usual promptness engaged passage for two by Railroad to Philadelphia the day prior to their departure. The day arrived, and as previously agreed upon the two "run-aways" were to meet at the depot in Jersey City—and they did.—About ten minutes before the morning train left, a gentleman might have been seen arm in arm with a lady in black closely veiled entering the cars, and the next moment both were seated. The sequel is short—soon after the cars started the engine whistled, etc., Mr. H. beheld the face of his own dear wedded wife unveiled, and in full view, laughing heartily at him and his folly, while the "vidder" at her aunt's was almost convulsed with laughter at the "joke" she had planned and done up so brown.

Mr. and Mrs. H. returned after a short stay at Philadelphia, perfectly reconciled to one another and to the "vidder" in particular, who was now more respected and admired than ever by all in B—— street, and all that knew her.

Again I say, "beware of the vidders," for it is fair to suppose that they must necessarily understand the "lord of creation" better than those who havn't been there.

TWO OF 'EM.—"Scraps," of the Tuscaloosa Observer, is "some punkins" sure, if we may judge from the following laconic correspondence:

Scraps used to manage the business affairs of an uncle in Pittsburg, who, among other peculiarities, was very economical of words. One day the old gentleman, hearing that there was a boat at the wharf, by which he wished to make a large shipment of coal, he wrote thus to Scraps:

Dear Scraps: ; board. Yours, NUNCLE.

Scraps beat him, though, at his own game. He wrote back:

Dear Nunc: : Yours, SCRAPS.

Explanation—Se-mi-col-on board. (See my coal on board.) Col-on. (Coal on.)

The following excellent remarks are gathered from the novel of 'Clarissa;' and as few of our readers, probably, ever had opportunity or patience to glean the true wisdom of Richardson from its mass of verbiage, we will set these real diamonds of thought in our Book, and hope our young readers will transfer them to their hearts.

MAXIMS FOR LOVERS.

Love takes deepest root in the steadiest mind.

It is a degree of impurity in a woman to love a sensual man.

True love is ever accompanied, with fear and reference.

Platonic love is Platonic nonsense.

The proof of true love is respect, not freedom.

But few first impressions ought to be trusted or encouraged in love.

A lady can have but small hopes of a lover, over whom his worthy relations can have no influence.

MAXIMS ON MARRIAGE.

It is neither just or honest to marry, where there can be no love.

Marriage with the best prospects is a very solemn engagement; enough to make a young creature's heart tremble, when she thinks seriously of it.

Marry first, and love will come after, is a shocking assertion; since a thousand things may happen to make the state but barely tolerable, even when it was entered into with mutual affection.

How unhappy must that marriage be in which the husband can have no confidence in the affection of his wife!

How much easier and pleasanter it is for a woman to obey the man of her choice, than one she would not have married could she have avoided it.

Invectives against marriage are a reflection upon the laws and good order of society.

Marriage is the highest state of friendship.

No matter whom that woman marries, who has a slight notion of matrimonial duties—she will surely be unhappy.

It is dreadful as well as dishonest to marry a man for his wealth, in the hope of his death.

Exalted qualities may be sunk in a low and unequal marriage.

REFLECTION ON WOMEN.

The uselessness and the expensiveness of modern women multiply bachelors.

Vile men owe much of their vileness to women of character, who hardly ever scruple to receive them into their society, if the men are rich, talented and fashionable, even though they have been guilty of ever so much baseness to other women.

'Had I found a character for virtue had been generally necessary to recommend me to the sex, I would,' said Lovelace, 'have a greater regard for my morals.'

DON'T TATTLE.—What need it concern you if John Snooks is courting Sal Thompson? They are undoubtedly rational beings, and can conduct their love affair in a becoming manner without any of your interference. What if Leb Short has got a new dress? It is probably paid for and cost you nothing.—Therefore why need you interest yourself so deeply about it. What if the principal merchant in this city has become insolvent?—You are not among his creditors, and for heaven's sake why can't you let the man have a little enjoyment? Suppose Dorcas Swift does go to a dancing school? It costs you nothing, and as she has a frail constitution, a little exercise of this kind may benefit her health.—This intermeddling with other's affairs to the utter neglect of their own, is becoming too prevalent with a certain class in our cities.—There are none of us who escape misfortunes or are free from error; but to be made the butt and by-word of a set of gossiping, intermeddling simpletons, merely on account of inevitable misfortune, or a single error committed, is far from agreeable. If this class of beings have any business of their own, we hope that out of shame for themselves, and for the credit of their relatives they will attend to it.

APYROTYPE.—A recent London paper gives the following account of the newly invented process of striking printing types from cold metal, an invention which bids fair to be a great step in the art of arts:

A machine which promises to revolutionize the present system of typography, invented by Mr. Petit, after years of thought and careful experiment was exhibited last Saturday at the meeting of the Royal Society, and having elicited the highest approbation from the members of that distinguished body, was yesterday opened to private view in Bartlett's buildings, Holborn. The object of the invention is to perfect by means of self-acting machinery, printing types of a durabillity almost infinite. This effected by the use of hard metals, copper being the material ultimately adopted by the inventor after many experiments. The new process in type making, as shown by this invention brings the most important and intellectual department of industry into harmony with the mechanical genius and improvements of the age.

Instead of the old and complicated processes by which type were formerly founded, a strip of copper wire, upon a revolving wheel, passes through a series of wheels, levers, pulleys and cranks of the simplest description in reality, however complicated in words; the type is struck or "punched" at the same moment its size is mathematically determined; and after passing through two other simple machines, is ready for use. By means of a small steam engine applied to the type making machine sixty per minute may be struck, or thirty-six thousand per diem. The clearness and beauty of the impression of the types thus produced, must delight all connoisseurs. In the new process, instead of fusing the metals, and pouring into moulds to give the necessary form, the inventor of the apyrotype machine effects this by a mechanical operation at ordinary temperatures, chiefly by the means of power pressure and the use of steel dies and matrices.

Singular Mode of keeping Fish alive.—Those worthy individuals who take delight in Izaak Walton's art, and who, moreover, are in the habit of sending the result of their sports to their epicurean acquaintances, must learn an indispensable piece of information, viz: how to keep fish fresh. This may be done by soaking the soft part of bread in brandy, and inserting it into the gill of the fish, while it is yet alive, and afterwards sprinkling it over gently with brandy. Thus prepared, and carefully packed in straw, the fish will keep alive ten or twelve days, as may be proved by putting them in water at the end of that time, when, after a few hours' immersion, it will recover from its protracted drunkeness.—London Literary Gazette.

Breach of Promise.—In a late trial for breach of promise of marriage, the court laid down the following law:

"If a man offers to marry a woman, or promises to do it, he is not bound to comply with it, unless she agree to accept him. It takes two to make a marriage contract as well as any other bargain. Where a man has a contract of marriage with a woman, and merely puts it off, and she becomes impatient, she cannot drag him into court and demand damages, unless she has formally offered to perform the contract on her part, and he dishonestly refuses and so puts an end the contract, because perchance he would prefer the marriage to the suit, and he ought to have a chance to make a choice."

Cost of the Crevasse.—It is stated by the municipal authorities of New Orleans, that the expenses incurred in stopping the Sauvé crevasse exceed $50,000.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR GOVERNOR,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT,

OF PARKE COUNTY.

FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR,

JAMES H. LANE,

OF DEARBORN COUNTY.

FOR CONGRESS,

ANDREW J. HARLAN,

OF GRANT COUNTY

SEND IN THE RETURNS!

We shall be obliged if our friends in all the surrounding counties will send us CORRECT returns of the vote for Governor, Lieut. Governor, Congress, and Legislature by the first opportunity—either mail or private conveyance.

The joint Board of Trustees and Visitors of the "Fort Wayne Female College," on Monday last, elected the following persons to constitute "The Faculty" of said institution.

Rev. CYRUS NUTT, A. M., President and Professor of Moral Science.

Rev. GEORGE H. ROUND, A. M., Vice President and Professor of Ancient Languages.

Mr. ALEXANDER C. HUESTIS, A. M., Professor of Mathematics and Natural Science.

Miss ABIGAL KIES, Teacher of Modern Languages, Painting and Drawing.

Mrs. MARIA HUBBELL, Teacher in Primary department,

The next College year commences on the last Wednesday in September.

There have been 142 young ladies in attendance during the past collegiate year.

☞ SHOCKING AFFAIR.—On Sunday night last, about 10 o'clock, Josiah Blackman and L. Martin were attacked on the canal bank, near Harmer's ford, by a boatman named Edward Rice, who after some scuffling drove them both into the river; Martin swam across, but Blackman was drowned. It being dark at the time, it was not noticed that Blackman was drowned; but as he did not return home, inquiries were set on foot the next day; the river was dragged for some days without success; but yesterday the body was discovered at the mill dam about a quarter of a mile below. A coroner's jury was summoned, but at the time of going to press, they have not got through with the case.

Rice absconded on Monday, and has not been heard of since.

Health of Fort Wayne.—Since our last, there have been three deaths by cholera in this city,—a German widow named Weseman, and two of her children: a third child has since died, but it is said to have been by some other disease. It appears that the sickness of this family was caused by the grossest imprudence in diet.

There have been no cases since Wednesday, and the city is more healthy than usual at this season of the year.

☞ The canal boat Carolina, which arrived here yesterday from Lafayette, lost three of her crew by cholera. Two were buried at Huntington and one at this place.

Cholera in Huntington.—Huntington has been sorely afflicted. By a letter from there, dated Sunday last, we learn that up to that date, there had been eleven deaths, and since then we are informed that they have averaged 4 or 5 per day. Most of the inhabitants have fled,—not more than 150 remaining in the place.

Cholera in Lafayette.—The cholera still continues with unabated violence in Lafayette. From the 3d July to the 31st. 139 citizens of that place fell victims to the pestilence.

☞ The cholera appears to have subsided in Aurora, Dearborn County. Though it is only a very small village, and nearly half of the inhabitants fled on the first appearance of the pestilence, one hundred and twenty-two fell victims to it between the 27th of May and 13th of July.

Another Indian War in Florida.—The Seminole Indians have made an outbreak on Indian River, St. Lucie County, South Florida.—They have plundered and burnt several houses, and shot some persons; several others, chiefly females, are missing, and it is feared have been carried off by the savages. The greatest consternation exists along the frontier, and the inhabitants are all fleeing to the settlements for safety. The citizens of St. Augustine were preparing to go in pursuit of the savages, and dispatches have been sent to Washington for assistance. There are said to be at least two hundred and fifty warriors still remaining in Florida—a number sufficient to give much trouble before they can be subdued.

A word to the Naturalized Citizens.

It is well known to you that some whigs have cunningly sought to inveigle you—or at least the German portion—by nominating Mr. Muhler for the Legislature. We do hope that no German democrat will be weak enough to fall into the trap, and sacrifice his principles merely for the sake of voting for a countryman. Mr. Muhler, we have already shown is not worthy your support, and though a German, is opposed to having any more Germans come to this country, and would doubtless if opportunity offered vote for any measure calculated to further the proscriptive views of the Native faction. The democratic party, it is known, has always stood by the rights and privileges of the foreign citizens, and it is surely the duty of the latter to reciprocate by a steadfast support of the party which has befriended them.

We trust the vote of the Germans next Monday will show to the world that the whigs have underrated their intelligence and patriotism, and that they are not to be seduced from their allegiance to the principles advocated by the democratic party.

To the Free Soilers.

A systematic effort is being made to induce the free soilers to believe that Mr. Harlan, the democratic candidate for Congress, is not as favorable to their views as his opponent Judge Kilgore. The Times at this place says that Harlan totally evaded the slavery question in his speech at this place. The editor of the Times is so notoriously addicted to romancing that we did not think it necessary to contradict this assertion. A similar charge was made by the Decatur Gazette; and the Winchester Patriot copies both charges, and contrasts Mr. Harlan's course in Randolph county, where he avowed himself strongly opposed to slavery, with his silence on the same question in this part of the State.

The Marion Western Unnion, an independent free soil paper, investigates those charges, and proves them to be unfounded, by the admissions of Kilgore himself! Every one at all acquainted with Mr. Harlan, knows him to be, and always to have been, strongly in favor of the free soil doctrine:—indeed we heard that urged as an objection against his being the democratic elector for this district.

The Western Union completely demolishes the charge, and is so well satisfied that Mr. Harlan is deserving the support of the free soilers that the editor publicly avows his intention of voting for him in preference to Judge Kilgore. The editor of the Western Union is a consistent free soiler, having no particular attachment to the democratic party, as is shown by his expressed determination to vote for Mr. Matson for Governor, on the same grounds that he votes for Harlan for Congress.

We copy a portion of the Union's remarks on this subject, and regret that our limits will not allow us to present the whole article to our readers. It is worthy a careful perusal.

"The charge made by the Fort Wayne Times, as above alluded to by the Winchester Patriot, and which we have both seen and read ourself, we have every reason to believe is a mistake. The charge is not sustained by any one who heard the discussion of Harlan and Kilgore, when at Fort Wayne—but on the contrary, all with whom we have conversed on the subject (and we have taken some trouble to learn the truth) are directly in opposition to the Times. Even Judge Kilgore himself, admitted in his speech at this place, that Harlan was not mum on the subject of slavery, as the Times says, but defined his position there against the further extension of slavery. And also told us that Daniel Reid, a prominent democrat of Allen county took exceptions to Harlan's remark on that subject.

"We have heard considerable said about Harlan's equivocations in the county of Randolph, but if the Patriot is to be believed, it seems that he was quite plain on the great question of Liberty in that county, for it says, "Mr. Harlan while in this county, prated long and loud about his opposition to slavery, and even declared it to be the paramount question at issue in the coming Congressional election, and that he was the bold and fearless advocate of the non-extension of slavery."

"We confess, for a season it was difficult for us to determine what course to pursue as it regards the election of a Congressman in this district, and have watched with much care and attention the progress of the canvass so far, and duly weighed the relative positions of the two candidates to the present administration, and are very forcibly struck with the just and sensible remarks of the editor of the National Era, in which he says—"One thing is "certain. Before a free soil man can sustain "a candidate for Congress belonging to the "administration party, he should require pe"culiarly cogent evidence that, if elected, he "will not suffer his advocacy and action in be"half of freedom to be faltered by administra"tion or party influences."

"Taking, then, an impartial view of the whole ground, and believing, as we do, that the great cause of Human Rights is at least as safe, if not safer in the hands of Harlan as Judge Kilgore, and knowing that the force of party ties and party influences, (for Kilgore declared in his speech here that he "stands where he always has stood") are not as likely to bear upon his conduct if in the Congress of the Nation as upon Judge Kilgore, we have concluded to support Harlan, and such we believe to be the resolve of a large portion of the Free Soil men in the county of Grant."

Democrats! Look well to your Tickets!

We have reason to believe that an effort will be made at the polls to palm off spurious tickets on our friends. A desperate attempt is to be made to elect Kilgore, and nothing will be left undone that may tend to secure this object.

Look out for fraudulent Tickets! don't take any except from those you know to be democrats. We give below a copy of the genuine Simon Pure DEMOCRATIC TICKET, and hope every democrat in the county will vote it.

For Governor.
Joseph A. Wright.

For Lieut. Governor,
James H. Lane.

For Congress,
Andrew J. Harlan.

For Representative,
Ochmig Bird.

For County Commissioner—1st Dist.
Noah Clem.

For County Commissioner—2d Dist,
William Robinson.

Every democrat should feel it his duty to vote the entire Democratic Ticket. Our candidates are all of our own selecting and worthy the support of the democratic party.—Let there be no swapping of votes; we have nothing to gain by such a course, for we can easily, if we will but try, elect every man on our ticket. We have reason to believe that Kilgore's friends will offer to trade off any or all other whig candidates to secure votes for him for Congress—for this every else would willingly be sacrificed We hope no democrat will listen to any such proposals, but will vote the democratic ticket, the whole democratic ticket, and nothing but the democratic ticket.

Look out for Sunday Circulars!

The Times has so much to say on this subject that we are induced to suspect that something of the kind is in contemplation by the whigs. Pay no attention to such documents, but do your duty to your country faithfully, by attending the polls early on Monday and voting the entire Democratic Ticket

Great Days' Work.—On Friday the 20th ult. no less than five executions took place.—Conrad Vender was executed in Baltimore for the murder of Mrs. Cooper;—he appeared quite penitent, and made a full confession.—Matthew Wood was hung in New York for poisoning his wife;—he asserted his innocence of the horrid crime to the last moment of his existence. In Charleston, South Carolina, three negroes were hung for a riot in the city workhouse the week previous.

Recognition of the Independence of Hungary.—A large meeting of Hungarians and the friends of Hungary was recently held in New York, at which a memorial was adopted addressed to the President of the United States asking the recognition of the independence of Hungary. The Secretary of State has returned the following answer to one of the officers of the meeting in question.

Sir:—I am requested by the President to acknowledge the receipt of your letter to him of the 9th instant, and the printed account of the proceedings of the meeting of the Hungarians and others in New York. These proceedings had not escaped attention.

The government and people of this country are profoundly interested in the events which are now passing in Hungary, and all information calculated to throw light on the present struggle between that country and Austria & Russia, cannot fail to be welcome.

It is the policy and practice of the United States to recognise all governments which exhibit to the world convincing proofs of their power to maintain themselves. If Hungary sustains herself in this unequal contest, there is no reason why we should not recognise her independence.

Congress, it is believed, would sanction such a measure, and this government would be most happy in that event, to enter into commercial as well as diplomatic relations with independent Hungary.

I am, respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN M. CLAYTON.

Mr. Tigar:

SIR,—Allow me in your columns of today to notice Mr. Withers' attempt to reply to my article of last week. I there stated that the cholera was here, and referred to nearly all the Physicians of the place in proof of my assertion. I charged Mr. W. with stating what was not the fact, viz: That he had been told by the Physicians that there was no cholera here. This week he does not attempt to reply to that charge, but simply says he relies for information solely upon the enlightened and intelligent Board of Health. Now, I care not what he may say on the subject, I know that he was informed by some of the most respectable Physicians of this place, that they had had cases of cholera; and I know also that the Board of Health had made out a report for his paper of last week, stating there was no cholera here, and were only deterred from publishing that fact through fear of a counter report from another Physician of equal intelligence and respectability; and I know also that Mr. W. knew it.

He very kindly recommends me to pay attention to my books, and hopes in time I may be able to discriminate between diseases. I assure Mr. W. I shall do so; and whether or not I have brains enough to become in time a good Physician, I shall at least never pretend to palm myself off upon any community as a Doctor of Medicine until some Medical College has given me that title;—and that is more, perhaps, than can with truth be said of all the members composing our intelligent Board of Health. STUDENT.

☞ We do not exactly admire the style of the above,—it is rather more personal, we think, than the occasion calls for. STUDENT, however claimed the right of replying to the attack on his former communication, by the editor of the Times, which we could not with propriety refuse. The controversy had now better be allowed to drop.—Ed.

BOARD OF HEALTH, TOLEDO, July 30.

Monthly statement from Cholera, in the city of Toledo, from its first appearance June 30th to July 30th, inclusive as taken from the Journal of the proceedings of the Board.—There have been 92 cases and 53 deaths.

By order of the Board,
L. S. LOWNSBURY, Sec'y.

BOARD OF HEALTH, July 31, 4 P. M.

11 new cases, and 5 deaths from Cholera within the last 24 hours.

L. S. LOWNSBURY, Sec'y.

TOLEDO, August 2, 1849.

11 new cases and 4 deaths from the Cholera within the last 24 hours.

Fearful ravages of the Cholera in Sandusky City.—A telegraphic dispatch from Sandusky City to Mr. Boalt, states that there were forty five burials in that place yesterday, (July 29th.) Among those who have died are John H. Ballard, Mr. Patrick son of the keeper of the Townsend House, Mrs. Frank Witherell, Erastus Cook and Mrs. Atwood.—Toledo Commercial Republican.

SANDUSKY, August 2d.

Thirteen interments yesterday. Twenty-three patients in hospital—few cases 10 deaths in 24 hours, of which seven were in hospital. Cholera abating.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.

Interments on Saturday, from Cholera, 11; other diseases, 15; Sunday, Cholera, 9; other diseases, 18. Interments during the week ending yesterday—cholera, 116; other diseases, 128.

Five steamboats were burned on Saturday night at our wharf—the Algoma, the Phœnix San Francisco, Mary & Dubuque. Several lives were lost. A severe riot occured between the firemen and some wretches who were stealing from the burning boats in which the latter used firearms but were finally driven off. Fifteen or twenty firemen were wounded.

CINCINNATI, July 31.

Interments for the last 24 hours—Cholera, 9; other diseases, 25.

NEW ORLEANS, July 28.

Brevet Major Gates died of Cholera at Fredericksburg, Texas, on the 28th of June. The steamer arrived at New Orleans on the 24th ult., with advices from Texas to the 19th.—The crops in Texas are said to be promising, although rain was rather abundant.

The cholera was raging in Fredericksburg. 30 persons having died of it.

The Texas papers abound with the usual number of murders. The Indians had attacked a U. S. train of wagons between Bexar and Eagle Pass, killed thirteen teamsters and captured all the mules belonging to the train. A general war was anticipated by the Mexicans. Lieut. Walker's rangers are stationed at San Patricio.

NEW YORK, August 2.

There has been reported since yesterday, 159 cases and 62 deaths of which 128 cases and 53 deaths were in private practice.

DETROIT, August 2.

Board of health report 2 fatal cases of cholera for the past 24 hours.

ALBANY, August 2.

24 cases and 9 deaths by cholera for the last 24 hours.

BUFFALO, August 2.

25 deaths by cholera for the past 24 hours.

ROCHESTER, Noble Co., July 25.

Mr. Tigar:

DEAR SIR.—I am aware that at present many fears are felt and expressed on account of the near approach of the cholera.

I am not apt to trouble by long epistles. If any one says he is in fear of the cholera, "tell him to fear not;" fear can do no good, but much harm. The following is the result of my experience in cholera when attending as physician to the Board of Health and stationed at Black Rock, near Buffalo, in '32 and '33. Let us fear only to indulge in any sort of intemperance, well defined; that is, eat, drink and sleep much in the usual prudent way; avoid extremes; and especially avoid fear; it is a very depressing passion. Guard well the first invasion of the disease; act prudently, and depend upon it there is not much to fear, for it will be so easily cured that no one will regard it as sickness.

If any one is very timid let him put on a plaster, called Antispasmodic, made adhesive and large enough to cover nearly the abdomen. I used Burgundy pitch, rosin pulverised camphor. If the fear did not abate, a glass of wine and half a grain of morphine at times gave quiet rest and often refreshing sleep. In this way, I am certain, no one took the disease or appeared much afraid.

The first symptoms are by no means dangerous, but neglect and delay are so. The symptoms are not uniform but in common the first appearing diarrhœa, slight nausea, and soon vomiting, great thirst for cold water; and neglected, cramps, cold extremity, clammy sweat, &c.

A sensible man will treat the disease upon common principles, and if every glass of water makes him vomit, he will omit the water and allay the irritation; morphine, opium, peppermint, &c., in full dose, with some light spoon food. As soon as sleep is obtained he is safe.

I must not forget to say that the main suffering in cholera is by neglecting the premonitory symptoms. If the early stage is neglected, a collapse may and often is fatal under any sort of management.

I most sincerely concur in the opinion that internal sanatory, and not quarantine, are the best safeguards against all epidemics. Cholera is by no means a contagious affection—No one need fear to handle, attend, and assist in the disease. It has its origin in the atmosphere and is inscrutable.

Very respectfully, yours,
J. S. THOMPSON, M. D.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF THE EUROPA.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1849.

The Steamer Europa, with Liverpool dates to the 14th inst., has arrived at Halifax and from thence by express and magnetic telegraph her news has been transmitted to this city.

THE MARKETS, &c.—The tone of business in Liverpool continued active. The market for breadstuffs was however dull, and the quotations of the previous week hardly maintained. Corn has declined 6d. to 1s. Flour, Ohio, 25 a 25s. 6d;—Western Canal 24 a 25s; Corn nominally 31 a 32s.—sales, to arrive, 28 a 29 Pork meets a free sale. In Bacon there is an extensive sale, though prices are two shillings per cwt. lower than any former week. Shoulders are in better demand than formerly.—Beef is unchanged,—demand but moderate.

ENGLAND.—Progress of the Cholera—The Crops.—The cholera is increasing in London and Liverpool, and seems to be very fatal in Southampton, and upon the entire southern coast.

The crops in England and Ireland appear promising.

The potato disease has appeared in a number of places in England and Ireland.

IRELAND.—Sufferings—Transportation of O'Brien and the other Patriot Prisoners.—The sufferings of the people of Ireland continue unabated, particularly in the southwestern districts and in the interior.

The patriot prisoners, O'Brien, Meagher, McManus, and others, have sailed on board of a government vessel for Van Dieman's Land, there to be herded with felons for daring to love their own country and to procure for her, and her people, equal and just laws.

Previous to their departure they issued an address to their countrymen, which is highly spoken of by the London Times.

FRANCE.—The Elections—English demand for Explanation—Fall of Rome—Cholera in Paris.—The elections to fill thirty vacancies in the National Assembly were going forward quietly at the date of the last news received previous to the sailing of the steamer. The moderate candidates seemed most in favor.

In Paris the Ministerial candidates were all returned. Lamartine and a few other socialists have secured an election.

The Marquis of Normandy has presented a note to the French Government from Lord Palmerston, demanding an explanation of the intentions of the French Government with regard to Rome—how long France intends to occupy Roman Territory, and whether it is resolved to restore the Pope.

The Legitamte and the Jesuit Journals of Paris are setting up a cry in favor of the absolute and unconditional restoration of the Pope to all his powers, temporal and spiritual. The correspondent of the London Times, writing from Paris, says that no such folly is intended by the French Government.

The official despatch of Gen. Oudinot, giving an account of the final attack on Rome, says that the Romans fought most desperately, disputing every inch of ground, and leaving 400 killed.

Orders have been received at Toulon countermanding the order for the embarkation of new reinforcements. One of the steamers, already at sea, was recalled.

The cholera was rapidly disappearing in Paris.

☞ The Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, consisting of Messrs. Charles Butler, of New York, and Thomas H. Blake and Austin M. Puett, of Indiana, closed a session at this place on Thursday, the 26th inst. We understand that a very considerable amount of important business was transacted.

The board determined to let out for construction, in November next, about fifteen miles of the canal, extending from Maysville, in Greene county, the terminus of the recent letting to Petersburgh, in Pike county. The work on the canal south of this place is progressing satisfactorily.

An office for the collection of Tolls was established at Terre-Haute, in anticipation of the completion of the canal to this place this season, and Callum H. Bailey, jr., was appointed collector.

We have been furnished with the following extract from the minutes of the board, by which it will be perceived that the present system of superintendence is to be replaced by one more simple, and which, it is thought, will be decidedly more efficient.

"Ordered—That for the purpose of a more efficient supervision, the navigable portion of the canal be divided into convenient districts of thirty to fifty miles in length, on each of which there shall be placed a Superintendent to continue in office during the pleasure of the board, except as hereinafter authorized, whose duty it shall be, to devote his entire time to the care and management of the canal under the instructions and supervision of the chief Engineer; and such Superintendent shall reside in all cases at some suitable point on the line of the canal:

That the Superintendents be appointed by the Board, and that in filling these stations, preference shall be given to persons having had actual experience as engineers in the construction and management of canals; provided, such experience can be found combined with sufficient energy of character and with habits of economy in the performance of canal work; said Superintendents each to give bond to the board, to be approved by the Resident Trustee or the chief Engineer, in the sum of two thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties and the accounting for all monies coming into his hands, and also to take on oath of office:

That for the purpose of superintendence the canal be divided into Districts, as follows, to-wit: District No. 1, to extend from the State line to Huntington—including the St. Joseph Feeder, distance 50 miles—District No. 2, from Huntington to Peru, distance 34 miles—District No. 3, from Peru to the lower end of the Slack-water near Delphi, distance 40 miles District No 4, from the Slack-water to the South bank of Flint Creek including Wea feeder, distance 32 miles—District No. 5, from Flint creek to Lodi, including the Shawnee feeder, distance 30 miles.

That the Salary of Superintendents be $750 per annum.

That the office of General Superintendent and Sub superintendent of the canal as heretofore established, be, and the same is hereby abolished: provided however, that the present Superintendents shall continue in office until notified by the chief Engineer that Superintendents under these regulations have been appointed.

That the chief Engineer from time to time furnish such record books and abstracts to the Superintendents, and give such instructions to them, as he may deem necessary to show their various expenditures separately, to produce uniformity in their accounts and make their duties easily intelligible, and to combine efficiency with economy, previously consulting with the Resident Trustee when they may conflict with any existing regulation for disbursements or otherwise, and in all cases giving the Resident Trustee due notice of the same: and be it further ordered that it shall be the duty of the chief Engineer on his passing up and down the line, to examine into the manner in which the Superintendents keep their books, papers and accounts, and to see whether in all things they have complied with his instructions.

That the estimates on written contracts for repairs, be hereafter made by the chief Engineer upon data and measurement to be furnished by the respective Superintendents, subject however to the supervision, correction and control of the chief Engineer.

That in vacation, the said Superintendents, for disobedience of orders, negligence of duty, inefficiency, waste or extravagance or other mal conduct in office, be subject to suspension by the State and Resident Trustees; a special report of the same to be made to the Board at their next subsequent meeting, and that in case of any vacancy in vacation, the same shall be filled by the appointment of the chief Engineer until the Board meet."

The Canadian Canals are constantly making some new revolutions in trade. The Montreal Pilot, of the 14th, states, as a result of the completion of the St. Lawrence Canal, that the schooner Pacific has sailed from Toronto to Halifax with a cargo of flour, wheat, peas, barley and malt, the freight being 65 cents per barrel. Two years since it would have been 130 cents, with two transhipments. The cheaper the freight on the St. Lawrence the brisker the competition will be for supplying the Lower British Provinces with produce, &c., between Boston, New York, the Canadas, (and Oswego and Rochester, when the old political barriers are fairly broken down.)

California Emigrants on the Fort Smith Route.—We learn from the Fort Smith Herald, of the 27th, that the progress of the emigrants on the Arkansas and Missouri routes is much more favorable than on the Independence route. On the Arkansas route the emigrants meet with no delays; grass is abundant, and the health of all is good. Out of 3,000 that left by this route, only one death is reported.

The Little Rock Democrat says the great National Road from Fort Smith to California, by the way of the settlements of New Mexico along the valley of the Rio Grande, and to Col. Cook's route, has just been surveyed, opened, and put in good order, by a corps of U. S. Topographical Engineers and a strong force of soldiers and emigrants. By this route California can be reached from Fort Smith in about two months by pack-mules, and in about four months by wagons.

Companies leaving Fort Smith, Ark., as late as October, can travel as slowly as they choose, and yet have ample time to arrive in the gold regions before the commencement of the season for digging.

In the winter of 1846, Col. Cook went to California by this route, and saw no snow.

MISS BLACKWELL, THE FEMALE PHYSICIAN, was educated in this country, and left for France some months ago, is creating some excitement in Paris. The lady has quite bewildered the learned faculty there by her diploma. She is young and rather good looking and entered upon her singular career from motives of duty. After about ten day's hesitation on the part of the directors of the Hospital of Maternity, she has at length received permission to enter that institution as a pupil.

Cholera among Hogs, &c.—The Cincinnati papers state that hogs, and even horses, in the streets, have been smitten with the cholera, and died. The Louisville Courier, of the 13th instant, learns that Mr. Crutchfield living about 50 miles below Cincinnati, lost about 58 hogs in a single night, the hogs suffering great pain, and in continued cramps and spasms.

ST. LOUIS, Thursday, July 19.

Great Speech of Col. Benton on Slavery.—Col. Benton addressed the people on the 7th inst. at Lexington, Mo., on the Proviso question. He divided his address into two heads—first, the constitution of the Anti-Slavery proviso: secondly, the nullification and disunion character of the Missouri resolutions of instruction.

Col. Benton maintained that he introduced the amendment into the Oregon Bill that passed it with a Wilmot Proviso attached, and that it was done to assert the unlimited power of Congress over Slavery in the Territories, and that as a naked, absolute, unconditional exercise of the unlimited power of Congress over the whole subject, the Oregon bill with the anti-Slavery clause received the approving signature of President Polk, with the sanction of his whole Cabinet.

Benton instanced the passage of the Minesota Territorial Bill, without even objection from Calhoun's, with a similar prohibition.

The Missouri resolutions of instruction Col Benton dissected with great minuteness, showing that their spirit was that of pure nullification, and that if carried out would lead to disunion. He pledged himself and the State of Missouri to sustain Gen. Taylor in preserving the Union against the assaults of Southern fanaticism, and designating the authors of the resolution as Calhoun the Father, Judge Napton the Granny, and Caleb Johnson the Nurse of the bantling.

The Indians on the Rio Grande.—Governor Wood of Texas, at a meeting held at Victoria, on the 15th of June, complained bitterly of the inefficient manner in which the Texas frontier was defended against the incursions of the Indians. He ridiculed the idea of trying to defend an extended frontier like that, infested by savage horsemen, by the aid of infantry.

In conclusion, says the Corpus Christi Star, upon this subject, he recommended that unless the policy of the General Government was changed in this respect, the State should make war upon the Indians from all points. If the United States Government was forgetful of her duty, and the Indians were not restrained by arms or treaties, the circumstances of the case, and the law of self-defence, rendered it necessary that the State Government should take the matter into its own hands. He knew there was sufficient patriotism and humanity in the people of Texas to pay whatever might be necessary for the protection of our people from the scalping knife.—Pennsylvanian.

Gen. Taylor deserves the scorn, contempt and execrations of mankind, for his wicked dereliction of duty in not defending the innocent victims of savage barbarity on the frontier.

He can set a dummy at Washington, cutting off heads, and persecuting and disgracing as far as it is possible, widows and maimed soldiers who happened to hold office because they are democrats and love their country, while the Indians equally barbarous and ignorant, are butchering and debauching men, women and children on the exposed and neglected frontier.

No wonder the democratic authorities of Texas, become ashamed and disgusted with such imbecility, and are about taking the power into their own hands.—Ohio Statesman.

THE BRIDAL PORTION FORGERY CASE in New Orleans, has ended in an acquittal of the defendant, Madame Gallot, as announced by telegraph. The trial is reported in the Picayune at length, and was most interesting.—The prosecutor, Antoine Michoud, prevaricated very much when under cross-examination by the counsel for the defence in relation to his signature to the note, and every thing in the evidence went to show that the note was not a forgery. The allegation that the body of the note had been removed by chemical process, or the signature transferred, was disproved by a chemist. The prisoner made a statement to the jury, written in French, to the effect that Mr. Michoud had been courting her for a long time, and had, in fulfilment of a promise, given her the note in question, as a token of his regard. The jury were only out two minutes and a half. The case has attracted general attention from its singular features.

The counsel for Miss Clement, in his speech, undertook to show that cases of this kind were not altogether novel. It was not an unusual occurrence for elderly gentlemen to become enamored of young females, nor was it uncommon under such circumstances, for "elderly gentlemen" to make presents of their notes to their paramours, sometimes, to be sure, without any intention of paying them. He remembered a very similar occurrence which took place in New Orleans some twenty years since, the particulars of which he gave—and the note in which case was finally paid.

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY—Battle of Czorna.—We have at last something definite about this battle, in which 23,000 Austrians were said to have been left on the field. The only reality in it, aside from some slight skirmishing, was the defeat by the Hungarians of that portion of Schlick's corps commanded by Gen. Wyss. In this affair the Austrians lost some three or four thousand men. The rest of the report, the 64 hours fighting and 23,000 killed came from the inventive genius of a banking house of Vienna, and was designed to help a grand speculation in stocks—principally at Berlin, but extended to some other cities.—The inventors have been named to us as Athrens & Co., of Vienna. We find that the Berlin agents of the well known house of Arustein & Eskeles, Vienna, have published a solemn denial that the story came from them. The National Zeitung, of Berlin, is full of regret at having been the means of aiding the speculators, and the Kölnische Zeitung, whose rather confidential statement of the story we translated last week, is repentant enough for having been taken in to satisfy the most rigorous inflictor of penance.—N. Y. Tribune.

CANADIAN ANNEXATION.—For the purpose of letting our people on this side of the border understand somewhat of the true state of Canadian feeling, among the reform or triumphant party in Canada West, we are furnished with the following extract from a letter from one of the leading members of the Parliament to his friend in this vicinity:

"It is somewhat amusing to note the effects of making a noise in politics. The old highly aristocratic clique in Canada West, feeling themselves completely floored, happily by acts and deeds entirely their own, and knowing that they have lost every chance of, and every pretension to, popular or parliamentary influence, in a spirit of reckless despair have got up this cry of Annexation! Annexation, forsooth! why, they utterly abhor every thing in your constitution and nation. We (the reform party) honestly admire the principles of your constitution and the noble enterprise of your people; and if there were any cause or call for such a step, we could fraternise with you honestly and sincerely. It is quite unnecessary, however, to discuss a matter which will not be for a moment entertained here, except by the old 'Family Compact,' who would, without hesitation, throw us all into mutual confusion, in hopes of picking up a few stray coppers in the fray. That is about the whole amount of the annexation cry, and you need give yourself no further anxiety about such a selfish concern as the 'Tory' party of Upper Canada.—Buffalo Commercial.

How many Drams make an Ounce?—The New Orleans Picayune relates an anecdote of a man in that city who being seized with the premonitory symptoms, was advised to take an ounce of brandy a day, but having no scales in which to weigh it, he luckily recollected that eight drams made an ounce, and accordingly took eight stiff horns and told the doctor that he felt "much better."

Preservation of the Tomato.—Mr. R. B. Marsh gives the following:

"The tomato which has come into universal use, and is deemed a luxury by almost every one, may be preserved for winter use in the following manner. When ripe, let them be prepared by stewing as for the table, and to the liking; put them in small jars (1 quart) with covers. Over the top put a piece of linen or cotton cloth, which well cover, and press the cover on; then pour into the cavity melted tallow, and keep them in a cool and dry place in the cellar until required for farther use. They need only to be warmed to serve them for the table. I use small jars for the reason, that when exposed to the air they soon ferment."—Albany Cultivator.

A PRAYER BY KOSSUTH.—The following prayer offered by Kossuth will be interesting to our readers. It was offered by him kneeling amid the multitude, at the grave of the Magyar heroes who fell in the battle of Rapoyina, and was originally published in the Opposition, a journal of Pesth:

Almighty Lord! God of the warriors of Arpad! Look down from thy starry throne upon thy imploring servant, from whose lips the prayer of millions ascend to Thy Heaven, praising the unsearchable power of Thine Omnipotence. O God, over me shines Thy sun, and beneath me repose the relics of my fallen heroic brethren; above my head the sky is blue, and under my feet the earth is dyed red with the holy blood of the children of our ancestors. Let the animating beams of Thy sun fall here that flowers may spring up from the blood, so that these hulls of departed beings may not moulder unadorned.—God of our fathers and God of the nations! hear and bless the voice of our warriors, and watch the arm and the soul of brave nation's thunder to break the iron hand of tyranny as it forges its chains. As a free man I kneel on these fresh graves, by the remains of my brothers. By such a sacrifice as theirs Thy earth would be consecrated were it all stained with sin. O God! on this holy soil above these graves no race of slaves can live. O Father! Father of our fathers! Mighty over myriads! Almighty God of the Heaven, the Earth and the Seas! From these bones springs a glory whose radiance is on the brow of my people. Hallow their dust with Thy grace that the ashes of my fallen heroic brethren may rest in peace. Leave us not, Great God of battles! In the holy name of the nations, praised be Thy Omnipotence. Amen.

A new Cure for the Cholera.—It is stated that the remedy recently introduced into the military hospital of Montreal, and recommended and practised by an army surgeon of much experience in the British army, who has published a work on the subject, has been eminently successful in the 19th regiment, composing a part of that garrison. Previous to its use, a number of fatal cases of cholera had occurred; but since the remedy has been administered, every patient had recovered. The recipe is laudanum and ether, made intensely hot with the addition of a solution of red pepper. Twenty drops of this to be taken every five minutes on a lump of sugar.

Gratifying Intelligence.

From every part of the country where Sloan's Ointment and Condition Powders have been introduced, the proprietor has received the most gratifying intelligence of their remarkable effect and popularity. In a multitude of instances, they have triumphed over diseases which had baffled the skill of celebrated Farriers, and were considered incurable. These medicines are rapidly superseding all other remedies now in use for diseased horses and cattle.

☞ See Agents' names at the head of Sloan's Column.—For further particulars and testimonials, get pamphlets o agents.

It is the only sure cure for dropsy. It will give relief in all cases of gravel, and is a sure cure for that disease in its earlier stages. It will restore to a state of health the debilited liver and kidney, eradicate all the morbid humors which are secreted in the system. It will drive from the body all eruptions. It will expel the cause of rheumatism and gout, from the blood by its chemical action on that vital fluid. It will cure palpitation of the heart, caused by an undue flow of blood through that organ. It will give life and tone to the digestive organs. It will promote a healthy and proper insensible perspiration without which no system could sustain itself. It will completely change the whole man, if diseased; body and mind will feel its influence. Dr. G. C. Vaughn's Great American Remedy will do all this, and a trial is the only argument we can offer to support what we have said. We have tried it, have found it had virtues, told others, they have all proved its astonishing powers, the press all over the country speak of it, the Agents say it sells better than any medicine ever sold before. Thousands are now living who would have been in their grave had not this article been presented to them. See our columns, read Agents names, and call and get pamphlets.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE SENTINEL,
Fort Wayne, August 4, 1849.

There has been a lively competition among wheat buyers this week, under the influence of which some lots of wheat were run up to 78a79 cents, although 75c may be considered as the market price. Flour by the load 3 75; Corn 32; Oats 25; Potatoes 37a40; Onions 62; Butter 8a 9; Eggs 8; Cheese 6 a 7; Bacon scarce and in demand—good hams would command 7 cents.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Flour, Western, 4 62 a $5 00; pure Genesee 5 06 a 5 18; Wheat 1 06 Butter 10.

BUFFALO, Aug. 2.—Flour 4 62; Wheat, Ohio, 95; Corn 48;

NOTICE TO FARMERS.

We the undersigned Millers and Commission Merchants, doing business in Fort Wayne, in view of the variations in weight, and the shrunken condition of the present wheat crop, and the difficulty (arising from this cause) of giving satisfaction to the sellers, agree to establish the following list of weights, and to be governed by it in all our purchases for the coming season—in the hope of producing a greater uniformity and giving to the different qualities of wheat their proper value:

DIED,—Of Cholera, at Bluffton, Wells Co. Indiana, on Friday the 27th of July, ASAHEL EDWIN, son of A. Aylsworth, Esq. of Granville, Ohio, in the 26th year of his age.

The decease of this young man deserves more than a passing notice. Though retiring and unobtrusive in his deportment, still he was endowed by nature with an affectionate disposition, which seemed to create an atmosphere of kindness around him, that was felt not only by his family and friends but by all with whom he was accustomed to associate.—But a few days previous to his death, he was on a visit to his relatives in this city. Buoyant with health and hope, few among us had apparently a stronger hold on life, and yet with a few hours' sickness he was taken from our midst. His bereaved parents and a large connection of relatives and friends mourn the loss they have sustained by his untimely death.

"How short the race our friend has run—
Cut down in all his bloom;
The course but yesterday begun,
Now finished in the tomb." Com.

JAMES G. BLAINE, A. B., Adjunct Professor of Languages
REV. J. R. SWIFT, A. M., Professor of Ethics and Belles Lettres.
JAMES H. DAVIESS, Esq., Professor of Law.
REV. H. V. D. NEVIUS A. M., Principal of the Academy.
CAPT. C. E. MOTT, Teacher in the Academy.
CAPT. W. W. GAUNT, Adjutant of the Institute.

*Educated at West Point. †Educated at the Virginia Military Institute.

Two hundred and thirty Cadets, from fifteen different States, have entered this Institution since it was organized, in 1847. It is entirely free from the control or domination of any sect or party, either political or religious. Economy in dress, in the adoption of a cheap Uniform, for Winter and Summer, is rigidly enforced. Every student is required to select a College guardian, with whom all funds brought or received must be deposited, and no debt must be contracted without the consent of such guardian.

An Institution combining the science of the West Point Academy and of Polytechnic Institutes, with the classical literature of our best Colleges, adding the modern languages, and superadding practical schools of Law and Engineering, nearly realizes the long-felt desideratum of a university able to meet the wants of Western progress—a university where all may select a course of study to suit their time, means and professional destination.

Mr. DAVIESS, the Professor of Law, is known in the various Courts as a practitioner of great ability, varied learning, long experience and exalted character. His eminent qualifications, the wholesome exercise and discipline of the Institution, and the convenient observation of the forms of judicial proceedings, offer unusual inducements to those who are earnest to achieve distinction as sound Lawyers.

CIVIL ENGINEERING

Will be thoroughly and practically taught in the Western Military Institute—the Professor, Col MORGAN, being one of the most skillful and experienced Engineers in the United States. All the instruments connected with that department, have been procured at considerable cost, and of the best quality.

The Superintendent takes the liberty of stating that he is now offered seventy-five dollars per month for competent assistant Engineers. One of his former pupils receives at this time $2,500 per annum as Principal Engineer of a Railroad now under construction in Kentucky—whilst others of the same class are receiving in different parts of the United States, $2000, $1500, and $1200 a year as assistant Engineers.

The time is rapidly approaching when there will be a great demand for such as have been prepared for that vocation at the Western Military Institute. Nothing is hazarded in saying that they will readily command $1200 or $1500 per annum. Every man of observation must see that the gigantic enterprise already proposed, will give birth to hundreds of others, tributary to them. The rapid advancement of our whole country, and the eagerness of our people for exploring the hidden resources of the new States and the newly acquired territory, will give ample scope for ages to come, to the skill and enterprise of the Engineer, the Geologist, the Mineralogist, the Surveyor, and the Architect. Young men who have an aptitude for the Mathematical and Physical sciences, will have a wide field opened to them for engaging in an honorable, a healthful and a lucrative pursuit, for which they may be thoroughly and practically qualified, in a short time, and at small expense, at the Western Military Institute.

Highly Important!

THE Common Council of this city at their meeting on Monday the 2d inst., Ordered LIME to be procured and distributed throughout the city, in the Streets and Alleys and all low, impure, and unhealthy places. And they earnestly desire and recommend, that the citizens procure Lime and scatter it around their residences, stores, shops, &c., and in their cellars and wherever any impurity exists. By so doing it is confidently hoped we will escape the desolating ravages of the Cholera, which is prevailing to so dreadful an extent in the cities around and near us. WM STEWART, Mayor.

Election Notice.

State of Indiana, Allen County, ss: } To the Sheriff of Allen County, GREETING:

I, ROBERT E. FLEMING, Clerk of the Allen Circuit Court, in said State, do hereby certify that at a general Election to be held in said County, on the first Monday in August, 1849, the following offices are to be filled, to wit:—A Governor of the State; A Lieut. Governor; A Representative to the Congress of the United States; A Representative to the General Assembly of the State; Two County Commissioners.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set [SEAL.] my hand and the seal of said Court, this 2d day of July, 1849.
R. E. FLEMING, Clerk.

I, Samuel S. Morss, Sheriff of Allen County, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the original, on file in my office. S. S. MORSS, Sh'ff A. C.
July 6, 1849.

NEW CONSTITUTION.

NOTICE is hereby given to the qualified electors of Allen, and State of Indiana, that a poll will be opened at the usual places of holding Elections in the several townships in this county, on the 6th day of August, 1849, in pursuance of the provisions of the following act:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That it shall be the duty of the Inspectors and Judges of Elections in the several townships within each county in this State, at the annual election in August next, to open a poll in which shall be entered all the votes given for or against the calling of a convention to alter, revise or amend the constitution of this State.

SEC. 2. Every qualified voter in this State, may, if he choose, at the annual election in August next, vote for or against the calling of a convention, for the purpose mentioned in the first section of this act.

SEC. 3. The Inspectors of elections at the several places of voting, shall propose to each voter presenting a ballot the question, "are you in favor of a convention to amend the constitution?" and those who are in favor of such a convention shall answer in the affirmative, and those who are against such convention shall answer in the negative, which answers shall be duly recorded by the Clerks of such election, and the Clerks of the Boards doing county business shall furnish a poll book with proper columns for that purpose.

SEC. 4. It is hereby made the duty of the Inspectors and Judges of elections to certify the number of votes given for or against a convention to the Clerks of the circuit courts respectively, in the same manner, and under the same restrictions and penalties that votes for State and county officers are given and certified.

A vote will also be taken on the subject of FREE SCHOOLS in this county. The question will be asked of each voter by the Inspector of elections at each poll in the county; "Are you in favor of, or opposed to the act of the last Legislature for the establishment of Free Schools?" B. W. OAKLEY,

THANKFUL for the favors of the past, would respectfully inform his old customers and the public generally that his Fall and Winter supply has in part arrived, and is still coming; so that by the close of navigation all demands for the season can be promptly filled.

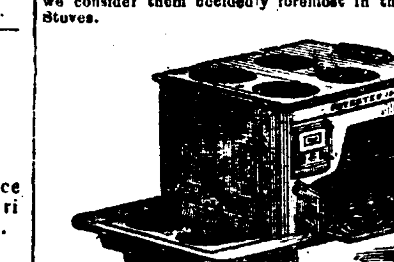
STOVES.

We place the "IMPERIAL AIR TIGHT" first; because we consider them decidedly foremost in the way of all Stoves.



The "UNITED STATES AIR TIGHT" is next, tho' many consider them equal, if not superior to those above—and with them may be classed the Washington and Troy Air Tights and the Quackenboss Air Tights, of Albany.

PREMIUM STOVES.

Among the different kinds of Premium Cooking Stoves we have the "Troy Victory," to the excellent qualities of which all who have ever tried them will readily attest. We selected them as the best premium stove in market, and the increased demand for them induced us to bring on a large assortment. We have also the common premiums from Buffalo and Cincinnati, and last though not least, the "Farmer," with no roses or superficial ornaments, but so well recommended that any one wishing a stove can take it, and bring it back again if it does not work well. Last, & least in the Cooking line stands the great "Hathaway," of Dayton, which we keep on hand for the especial benefit of those who prefer this to a better article.

Parlor Stoves of Cast or Sheet Iron, Dining Room Stoves Shop and Store Room Stoves of all varieties and sizes from a meeting house to a 10 by 12.

In connection with our Stove trade we have added a small but well selected assortment of Castings and Hardware.

Consisting in the main of all the most essential and necessary articles used by farmers and mechanics.

Our Tin and Copper business is still as noisy as ever, and all hands ready and happy to wait upon those who desire any thing in our line. B. W. OAKLEY.

N. B.—Old Copper, Brass, Rags, Ginseng, Beeswax, &c., received in exchange for Goods. B. W. O.

In Advance of the Telegraph!

W. SMITH & Co., No. 3 Jones' Block, respectfully inform the Ladies that they have just received their

SPRING STOCK

Of New and Fashionable GOODS,

embracing every thing really desirable in the Eastern markets, and which will be sold at prices to Beat the Jews!

The Ladies are invited to call and examine this splendid stock, far exceeding any thing ever brought to the place. Their

New Styles of Dress Goods

are peculiarly rich and becoming; their stock of Bonnet Ribbons, is beyond comparison the best ever seen in the west, and as for Lawns, Ginghams, DeLaines, Calicoes, &c, &c., the half of what might truly be said about them would not be believed. Therefore a general invitation is extended to all to call and judge for themselves.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

P. S. Beware of WANDERING JEWS, unless you wish to be shaved; you can buy a good genuine article at No. 3 for considerably less than the small pox pedlers charge for their damaged, imperfect, spurious, flimsy articles, which are made to sell and not to wear.

NEW ARRIVAL

At the Ohio Cash Store.

AYLSWORTH & BORDEN are now receiving their SPRING & SUMMER GOODS suitable for the market, which have been selected with a view to durability and fast colors. Having purchased many of them from first hands, thereby saving one profit, they will be sold at a small advance, and even cheaper than others are selling inferior goods. We are desirous that all goods sold by us should give entire satisfaction, as it regards durability and prices. The goods have been purchased in New York, and not in Cincinnati where several of our merchants have made their purchases, and we are confident that we can sell goods in Fort Wayne as cheap as they do in Cincinnati. This is an important fact to be remembered by those who purchase goods in this city. Our stock is new and fresh, we have a great variety of

of the latest styles, consisting in part of silk and linen berages, brocade linen lustres, linen, English, Scotch, French, and hair cloth ginghams, balzarines, lawns, figured and plain jaconets, every variety of prints. Beautiful plain and embroidered white crape shawls, berage and mous de laine do; canton crape scarfs. Also a large stock of French and English cloths, cassimeres, cashmerets, croton cloths, plain and figured satin vestings, figured and plain surge de rhone vestings, fancy do; plain barathea vestings, Kentucky and camlet jeans, summer cloth, cottonades, satinetts, &c. A large stock of gloves and hosiery of every description.

BONNETS.—Beautiful French braid bonnets, French lace mourning do; Rough and Ready, China, pearl, leghorn, and English straw do; Misses Jenny Lind do, open braid and leghorn flats. ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS of every variety, mourning sprigs; also a splendid stock of

HATS.—Fashionable silk hats, English, Duesta, and Rutland, do Pedal, and plain and colored leghorn; also a magnificent stock of BOOTS AND SHOES.—Ladies' black and colored walking and dress gaiters, Congress half gaiters, Excelsiors, slippers and walking shoes. Misses' gaiters, slippers and morocco boots, childrens' shoes of every description and size.

Carpets and Rugs.

We have in store fine ingrain and Venitian carpets, Wilton and tufted rugs, Brussels carpet bags and satchels. We would here say to the public that we have made extensive arrangements with a house in New York, to enable us to open a carpet room, where we will during the course of the summer receive a large and splendid stock, and shall keep constantly on hand every variety of carpeting used in the West, together with oil floor cloths, matting, druggets, rugs, &c., and will sell them as cheap as a single carpet can be purchased in Cincinnati, or a small advance over New York costs.

We are daily expecting a large stock of sheetings and domestic goods, Hardware, Queensware, Groceries, &c., shipped by the Erie Canal.

WANTED—All kinds of Produce the Farmer has to dispose of in exchange for goods, at the lowest cash prices. We will take all the butter offered at the highest market price.—Don't forget the place, in Hamilton's block. Store formerly occupied by Thomas Hamilton, second store from the corner. Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore received, we are determined to sell our goods very cheap, that we may merit the continuation of the same.

SLOAN'S COLUMN.

☞ All the Medicines advertised by W. B. Sloan are sold by merchants, Druggists &c. nearly every town in all the Western States, and by Dr. L. BEECHER, Fort Wayne.

The best and cheapest Horse Medicine in the World.

SLOAN'S OINTMENT AND CONDITION POWDER, have earned a great name. For Purity, Mildness, Safety, Certainty and Thoroughness, Sloan's Ointment excels, and is rapidly superseding all other Ointments and Liniments now in use for the cure of the following diseases:

Fresh Wounds, Galls of all kinds, Sprains, Bruises, Cracked Heels, Ringbone, Windgalls, Poll Evil, Callus, Spavins, Sweeney, Fistula, Sitfast, Strains, Lameness, Sand Crack, Foundered Feet, Scratches or Grease Mange, or Horn Distemper.

The Powder will remove all inflamation and fever, purify the blood, loosen the skin, cleanse the water, and strengthen every part of the body; and has proved a sovereign remedy for the following diseases: Distemper, Hide Bound, Loss of Appetite, Inward Strain, Yellow Water, Inflamation of the Eyes, Fatigue from hard exercise; also, Rheumatism, (commonly called stiff complaint,) which proves so fatal to many valuable horses in this country. It is also a safe, and certain remedy for coughs and colds which generate so many fatal diseases.
W. B. SLOAN,
Grand Depot, 40 Lake St., Chicago, Illinois

The Proof.

Extract from the Galena "Northwestern Gazette."

☞ By the use of Sloan's Ointment and Condition Powder, I have entirely cured a Fistula on my horse and otherwise improved his condition more than 500 per cent., on the cost of the medicine. And a cow which was so feeble as to be considered worthless by myself and neighbors, was restored to good health and strength, by the use of less than half a package of the powder, and is now doing better than any other cow I have. WM. VINCENT.
Small Pox, May 13, 1848.

THE SUFFERING CHILD.

I hereby certify that one of my children, when naked, fell into a large fire of live coals, and was burned severely from head to feet. The best of medical aid and attention was given to the child for four or five days without any relief—each day's suffering increased till his groans could be heard at a great distance. At which critical period one of my neighbors recommended and presented to me a box of SLOAN'S OINTMENT, and in less than fifteen minutes after the application of the Ointment to the aggravated sores of the suffering child, the pain ceased entirely, and he speedily began to recover. My residence is in Helt Township, Vermillion county, and State of Indiana.
THEODORE L. TAFL[illegible].
Dated at Chicago, Aug. 24, 1848.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE.

April 13th, 1848. Four miles north of Chicago, (on the road to Milwaukie.) Cook County, Illinois.

Mr. Sloan—Dear Sir: One of my horses had a large bony tumor on his breastbone, immediately under the collar, which lamed him, and rendered his services of very little value. I then procured Wilder's Celebrated Horse Ointment, and used that until I became fully satisfied that it would never relieve the animal. Finally I obtained a box of your truly valuable Ointment, and in less than sixty days from the first application the tumor entirely disappeared, and the horse was well.
Yours, EDWARD ARMSTRONG.

POPULAR OPINION.

If popular opinion is any criterion of the worth of an article, we invite the incredulous to read at least a few of the many voluntary certificates that appear in our columns respecting the great variety of remarkable cures effected by the use of "Sloan's Celebrated Ointment and Condition Powders."

These remedies no longer remain among those of doubtful utility, they have passed from the tide of experiment, and now stand higher in reputation and are becoming more extensively used than all other articles of the kind.—Mich. City News.

The half has not been told.

Fox River, June 12, 1848.

Dr. Sloan—Sir: Please send by the bearer a new supply of your Horse Medicines. They are the best of the kind that I have ever used, never having been disappointed in their effects. I have been in the use of other, even the most celebrated Ointments, Liniments, &c., of the day. I like very much this feature in them viz: that they do all that is promised, and upon a thorough trial one is constrained to add, that "half has not been told.
Respectfully, M. DUDLEY.

THE DIFFERENCE.

The ordinary Ointments and Liniments it is well known, are severe and partial in their operation. Sloan's Ointment is mild yet thorough—it reaches and removes the cause, hence it gives a real and permanent relief.

For purity, mildness, safety, certainty, and thoroughness, SLOAN'S Ointment excels, and is rapidly superceding all other Ointments and Liniments now in use.

WE CAN'T GET ALONG WITHOUT IT.

BEEBE'S GROVE, Will Co., Ill., October 24, 1848.

Mr. Sloan—

SIR: I have tested the virtue of your Ointment in the cure of rattlesnake bites, sore [illegible], burns, and many other injuries, and in every case it has surpassed our expectations. As a family Ointment, I have never seen its equal, and for beasts we can't get along without it.
Yours, &c., MILES M. JOHNS[illegible].

Excellent Ointment.

Mr. Sloan—Dear Sir: For a considerable length of time I was seriously afflicted with the Rheumatic complaint, and applied freely to various liniments, pain killers, &c., without obtaining relief. After which your Agent at this place influenced me to try your Ointment, and within two weeks from the time I commenced using it, the pain ceased, and I was effectually cured, and shall recommend all who are similarly afflicted with the distressing complaint, to procure your excellent ointment without delay.
Respectfully yours, OSCAR F. [illegible]
Princeville, Peoria Co., May 1, 1848.

☞ From the Hon. H. V. S. Brooks, Agent for the Illinois and Michigan Canal Packet Boat Company.

Chicago, June 24, 1848.

Dr. W. B. Sloan—

DEAR SIR: For the last 30 years I have had occasion to use many horses, and have used the great variety of Liniments and Ointments [illegible] but have never found any thing equal to your Ointment for injuries on horses. Within the last two months I have applied your Ointment to some 80 horses, for various injuries, and in every instance it has proved a sovereign remedy.

A FINGER BITTEN ENTIRELY OFF.

Two miles south of Chicago, Sept. 14 [illegible]

Dr. Sloan—Sir: On the 8th instant my [illegible] had a finger bitten entirely off by a horse. I immediately applied your celebrated Ointment, which relieved him of pain in a few moments, and prevented the finger from swelling the least particle, and the wound is healing rapidly.
y2 Respectfully yours, [illegible]

Stoves, Stoves, Stoves!

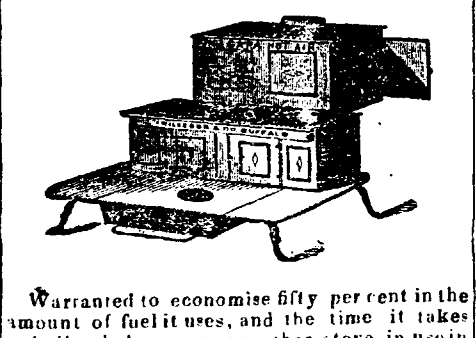
MORE of the latest styles and most improved patents in the way of HOT AIR COOKING STOVES, are now arriving at the Old Stand.

SIGN OF THE PAD LOCK.

From the following descriptions it will be seen that exertions the proprietor of this establishment is constantly making to supply the public with the latest improvements in the line of his business.

He now offers for sale the splendid 4 Boiler

Niagara Hot Air Cooking STOVE.



Warranted to economise fifty per cent in the amount of fuel it uses, and the time it takes to boil or bake, over any other stove in use in this or any other country.

The next is the same man's patent of 3 Boiler

Niagara Hot Air Cooking Stove,

which takes in nearly three feet wood, with all the advantages of the other. (See plate above.

These Stoves took the first premium at a recent fair of the Erie County agricultural society, New York.

Next comes the good old EMPIRE HOT AIR COOKING STOVE, which is so well known in this country, with two ovens, one being portable. Also, the

Hathaway Hot Air Cooking Stove,

the excellent qualities of which will be readily testified to, by a number of families in Fort Wayne, who have them in use,—the proprietor's own family being one of that number. The next is another new stove called the

Knickerbacker Hot Air,

which is now having a great run in the East, and no doubt will run quite as fast out West, as soon as it is seen and its qualities understood.

Then comes the Premium Cooking Stoves all sizes;

The Noncondensing Hot Air Parlor Stoves;

The Ten and Seven Plate Stoves;

All of them are made of the best and heaviest Castings, and are Warranted to stand fire.

without breaking.

After these, comes the Russia Sheet Iron Parlor Office Stoves, made to order, any size that may be wanted.

TIN WARE manufactured and sold whole sale at Eastern prices. Country merchants will find it to their advantage to call here for their supplies of this article.

Tin Plate, Sheet Copper Sheet Iron and Block Tin kept constantly on hand and for sale to the trade, at the New York Hardware Store, sign of the Pad Lock.

No Cure No Pay.

I Would inform the world that I have a Remedy for curing or healing Ruptures, without any pain in the operation, and without even seeing the place thus ruptured. Some of the wise and learned may laugh and scorn at the proposition, but don't be too fast, this is no new fiction, my father has practiced the Remedy over forty years in the East, and I have cured three persons myself. I give this to the public, because I believe it to be my duty to do all the good I can to my fellows. WM. IBA.

And I would also request editors of papers in the Country to make a short paragraph of the above in their sheets, and by so doing they will confer a blessing on some of their patrons.

Protection

Fire & Marine Insurance Company

THE subscriber has been appointed an Agent of the Protection Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and is authorized to Insure Dwelling Houses, Stores, Warehouses, Mills, Manufactories, Barns, Stables, and the contents of each, together with every other similar species of property Against loss or damage by Fire.

The subscriber is also authorized to issue Policies on the most favorable terms

Against loss or damage on the cargoes of Steam, Keel, Canal, and Flat Boats, while navigating the Western Rivers, Lakes, and Canals.

On account of the liberal patronage heretofore extended to said Company, they have been enabled greatly to reduce their rates of Insurance, so that now every man has an opportunity, for a trifling sum, to protect himself against the ravages of these destructive elements.

For terms of Insurance, apply to the subscriber, at the office, of Hough & Turner, on Calhoun street, north of the Spencer House.
R. D. TURNER.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING BEEN appointed an agent for said company, is authorized to make every kind and nature of Insurance uppertaining to Life Risks, for a certain number of years or for life, grant annuities, and confer endowments.

The provisions of the charter of said company are peculiarly favorable to the assured—containing many important privileges, which experience has proved may be safely granted, and which are deemed superior to any heretofore offered in this country.

Married women may Insure the lives of their husbands, secure from the demands of creditors, Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the benefit of creditors.

The assured after a term of years, may at any time surrender the policy and receive its equitable value in cash.

The subject of Life Insurance is attracting much attention in the Eastern States, and commends itself to the favorable consideration of all, as by this means a comfortable support may be left to the wife and children when misfortune comes upon them, and the husband and father is taken from their embrace by the cold hand of death.

Pamphlets explanatory of the uses and benefits arising from Life Insurances, will be furnished those wishing to be insured.

The undersigned is also agent for the HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD, CONN.

DRY GOODS,

GROCERIES, &C.,

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

There is no real occasion for sickness!

Dr. Ralph's Pills,

FOUNDED on the only principle on which a UNIVERSAL MEDICINE can safely and conscientiously be recommended to the world. They are fast superceding every other remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Acidity, Heartburn, Costiveness, all Impurities of the blood, Biliousness, Liver Diseases, Fever & Ague, the DISEASES OF WESTERN CLIMATE, &c. The reason is obvious—they act in

PERFECT ACCORDANCE WITH NATURE.

Their operation is exceedingly mild and pleasant, and if taken in accordance with the directions, which are remarkably plain and clear,

THEY CANNOT FAIL TO CURE

and to perfectly prevent diseases of every kind (see explanation of the new theory in the 'Ralphian' an invaluable paper which may be had gratis of the agents.) Their unexampled success in all the complaints of FEMALES, and those also attending pregnancy, is acknowledged by thousands.

NO FEMALE SHOULD BE WITHOUT THEM.

Testimonials of cures, of every disease the human system is liable to, often after all other means had failed, are consequently being received at the Central Office, N. Y. City.

Price 25 cents a box, with full directions, and Family packages at $1, (in which is much saving.)

J. B. Hanna, Fort Wayne, having been appointed general agent, will supply this celebrated medicine, wholesale and retail, on the same terms as at the Central Office.
June 13, 1848. y9

Read the following testimony from W. W. Steevens, principal of the Classical & Commercial Academy, Fort Wayne, Ind.:

"Having had repeated opportunities for the last fourteen years of witnessing the great benefits various persons have derived from the use of Doctor RALPH'S PILLS, and knowing Doctor RALPH to be a graduate of the University of Edinborg, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, and of the Medical College of the State of New York; also a Physician of Long, Extensive and successful Practice, I cordially recommend said Pills to all who may be afflicted with diseases for which the Pills are recommended, believing they will perform all that is promised for them if the directions for using them be strictly followed.
W. W, STEEVENS.
Fort Wayne, July, 1848.

"DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request I would state that I have used Doctor RALPH'S PILLS in my family for something like ten years, and am satisfied that they are an excellent family Medicine. I have no doubt but that the use of them has at different times saved myself and family much sickness and expense.
HUGH MILLER."

To J. B. HANNA.

The above Pills can be had at wholesale of J. B. HANNA, General Agent at Fort Wayne.

They are also sold at retail by A. B. Miller, Ligonier; E. D. Bartlett & Co., La Grange Centre; C. R. Walker, Fort Wayne; DeFrees, Wolf Lake: Peter Heller Eel River; Robert Dykes, Ontario; J. N. Alleman, May's Mills; L. S Bayless, Bayless's Mills.

THE IMMENSE

Mineral Wealth of California

HAS induced thousands to abandon the comforts of home and brave the hardships and horrors of a trip across the Rocky Mountains, or the perils of a passage round Cape Horn, all of which may now be avoided, and as fair a chance found of making money at Home. It is an old adage that a penny saved is two-pence earned; there is no trouble in making money here, the only thing is, to keep it after it is made. This may in a great measure be accomplished by buying at

B. MASON'S Celebrated Cheap Store,

where goods can be had so cheap that none who make all their purchases there can fail to save enough to make themselves rich, and that too without running the risks necessary to pick up gold on the Sacramento.

A large stock of SPRING & SUMMER GOODS has just been received, including a beautiful assortment of

Fancy Dress Goods.

Silks, Bareges, Linen Lawns Lines, Poplins, Lawns, Ginghams Lawns, White Lawns, Swiss Mulls, Plaid Mulls and Jaconetts, Victoria Lawns, Nankeens, Calicoes, &c. White and Red Crape, Embroidered Crape, Berage, and Silk SHAWLS. Parasols—a splendid assortment. Fans of every variety. Ladies' and Gents' Gloves. Leghorn, Palm Leaf, and Straw Hats. Besides all kinds of staple goods, such as Shirtings, Sheetings, Checks, Drillings, and all sorts of Summer Wear.

It is needless to say more than that the stock now on hand at this establishment fully equals all former ones, and is offered at even less than Mason's unrivalled low prices. Call and satisfy yourselves.

The stock of GROCERIES is large, and all of the choicest quality—nothing else is ever kept, and they will be sold as Cheap or CHEAPER than the inferior articles offered in some of the blowing gas-houses in this city. DYE STUFFS—Madder, Indigo, Alum, &c.

QUEENSWARE.—A large and most beautiful assortment of the latest styles.

HARDWARE.—A full stock, which is offered very low.

Every thing in the shape of BOOTS AND SHOES, from a Stogie Boot to a Baby's Shoe—including Misses' Gaiters, Slippers, Walking Shoes, &c., and Gents' Calf Boots, Water Proof Boots, Shoes, Bootees, &c &c. at very reduced prices.

HATS AND CAPS in great variety—from a Broadway Bon Ton to a shilling cap.

STATIONERY.—He has also a large stock of Stationery—including School Books, Cap and Letter Paper, Envelopes &c. &c.

Also an endless variety of NOTIONS—such as Steel Beads, Clasps, and Purse Twists; Combs in great variety;—Travelling Bags; Pen and Pocket Knives, and every thing else that is neat, tasty, fashionable or desirable.

SALT & WHITE FISH by the bbl. NAILS & GLASS.

In short, buyers will find any thing and every thing they can ask for, and for CASH can have such bargains as they have never dreamt of. All kinds of PRODUCE, Deer Skins &c. taken in exchange for Goods.

Notice to Farmers and PRODUCE DEALERS.

THE undersigned having leased the well known CITY MILLS, in Fort Wayne, heretofore run by Hamilton & Williams, take this method of saying to all interested that they are prepared and ready to Flour promptly any quantity of Wheat, on the most reasonable terms.

Farmers who have Custom Work or Grists to grind will always find one or more Run of Stones in readiness for this purpose.

All kinds of Bread Stuffs and Mill Feed at all times for sale.

Notice.

THE Firm of SAMUEL HANNA & SONS was dissolved in July last. This is to give notice to all concerned, that the notes and accounts due said firm, both in this county and Noble, have been put in the hands of Mr. WM. C. TAYLOR for collection, who is authorized to receive and receipt for the same. Many persons owing have been repeatedly called on for payment, and as often neglected to pay, until I have become ashamed to ask them again; but I assure all persons indebted that unless their attention is immediately directed to the subject, they will find those claims in the hands of an officer for collection.

AMERICAN REMEDY

WESTERN NEW YORK

COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

207 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. G. C. VAUGHN'S

Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture.

THIS celebrated remedy is constantly increasing its fame by the many cures is is making

ALL OVER THE WORLD.

It has now become the only medicine for family use, and particularly recommended for all stages of this complaint immediately relieved, no matter of how long standing. See Pamphlet for testimony.

DROPSY:

GRAVEL,

and all diseases of the urinary organs; for these distressing complaints it stands alone; no other article can relieve you and the cures testified to will convince the most skeptical; see pamphlet. Liver Complaint, Billious diseases,

FEVER AND AGUE.

To the Great West especially, and wherever these complaints prevail this medicine is offered.

NO MINERAL AGENT.

no deleterious compound is a part of this mixture, it cures these diseases with certainty and celerity, and does not leave the system torpid. See Pamphlet.

PILES,

a complaint of a most painful character, is

IMMEDIATELY RELIEVED,

and a cure follows by a few days use of this article: it is far before any other preparation for this disease, or for any other disease originating from impure blood. See pamphlet.

DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM,

weak back, weakness of the Kidneys, &c., or inflammation of the same, is immediately relieved by a few days use of this medicine, and a cure is always a result of its use. It stands as A CERTAIN REMEDY for such complaints, and also for derangements of the female frame IRREGULARITIES SUPPRESSIONS, painful menstruations. No article has ever been offered except this which would touch this kind of derangements. It may be relied upon as a sure and effective remedy, and did we feel permitted to do so could give

A THOUSAND NAMES

as proof of cures in this distressing class of complaints. See pamphlet. All broken down, debilitated constitutions from the effect of mercury, will find the bracing power of this article to act immediately, and the poisonous mineral eradicated from the system. ERUPTIVE DISEASES will find the alterative properties of this article

PURIFY THE BLOOD,

and drive such diseases from the system. See pamphlet for testimony of cures in all diseases, which the limits of an advertisement will not permit to be named here. Agents give them away; they contain 32 pages of certificates of high character, and a stronger

ARRAY OF PROOF

of the virtues of a medicine, never appeared. It is one of the Peculiar features of this article that it never fails to benefit in any case, and if bone and muscle are left to build upon let the emaciated and lingering invalid

HOPE ON,

and keep taking the medicine as long as there is an improvement. The proprietor would

CAUTION THE PUBLIC

against a number of articles which come out under the head of SARSAPARILLAS, SYRUPS, &C.

as cures for Dropsy, Gravel, &c.: They are good for nothing and concocted to gull the unwary;

TOUCH THEM NOT.

Their inventors never thought of curing such diseases till this article had done it. A particular study of the pamphlet is earnestly solicited.

Agents and all who sell the article are gratuitously. Put up in 30 oz. bottles, at $2; 12 oz do at $1 each—the larger holding 6 oz. more than two small bottles. Look out and not get imposed upon. Every bottle has "Vaughn's Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture," blown upon the glass the written signature of "G. C. Vaughn" on the directions, and "G. C. Vaughn, Buffalo," stamped on the cork. None other are genuine. Prepared by Dr. G. C. Vaughn, and sold at the Principal Office, 207 Main street, Buffalo, at wholesale and retail. No attention given to letters unless post paid—orders from regularly constituted Agents excepted; post paid letters, or verbal communications soliciting advice, promptly attended to, gratis.

GLAD TO CIRCULATE

Offices devoted exclusively to the sale of this article—132, Nassau street, New York city; 295 Essex street, Salem, Mass., and by the principal Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as agents.

Cash for 20,000 Bushels OF WHEAT,

At the Empire Mills.

WE are prepared to pay CASH and the HIGHEST PRICE for 20,000 bushels of good merchantable Wheat.

Farmers and Teamsters will save themselves much trouble and expense by driving directly up to the STONE MILLS and unloading; they will always get the highest price, and avoid the annoyance of being pestered by the barkers and whipper snappers from the Stores, who now infest our streets and are such a bore to all who bring wheat to our market. We are not much given to boasting; but as some of our neighbors are talking of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat, we would inform wheat raisers that we can take in 20,000; as our Mill, besides being the best, is the biggest, the highest, and the strongest in the country. We have a convenient WAGON-YARD and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamsters; we always furnish feed for the horses and occasionally throw in Supper and Breakfast for their drivers. This is nothing new with us—we have always thought it our duty to do so and should not now mention it if our neighbors had not set the example.

We keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF THE BEST QUALITY and all kinds of Mill Stuff; and promptly grind every thing in the shape of Custom Work—always excepting White Oak Tan Bark, or the "face of the Poor."

POETRY.

DEATH.

We know when gentle spring will come,
And when the winter cold,
And when the wither'd leaves will be
Upon the frosty mould.

We know when tender violets fade,
And when the primrose dies,
And when the glimmering stars will shine
And set amid the skies.

But who is he can tell the hour
When the dread foe shall come,
To sweep away the sons of earth,
And shroud them in the tomb?

He waits not till the limbs are old,
Or till the hair is grey;
Ah, no! The young and beautiful
He makes as oft his prey.

He tears the infant from the breast,
He slays the blooming bride,
When she before the altar stands,
Her lover by her side.

Morning and eve, both day and night,
He goeth forth to slay;
And every hour some victim new
He seizes for his prey.

Go where you will, he still is there,
On earth, or on the deep,
Whether the waves tempestuous rise
Or sink in gentle sleep.

He comes among the festive throng,
Where grace and beauty shine;
He steals into the banquet hall,
'Mid revel, mirth and wine.

Into our peaceful home he glides;
He's where the plumes wave high,
Where trumpets bray, and lances gleam,
And banners float the sky.

Sure quencher of the struggling breath,
Dark dimmer of the eye;
Ah! who can tell the fatal hour
When he is hovering nigh?

THE CONTESTED MARRIAGE.

I had just escaped to my chamber one winter afternoon from a heavy trial 'at bar' in the King's Bench, Westminster, and was pouring over a case upon which an 'opinion' was urgently solicited, when my clerk entered with a letter which he had been requested to deliver by a lady, who had called twice before during the day for the purpose of seeing me. Vexed at the interruption, I almost snatched the letter from the man's hand, hastily broke the seal, and to my great surprise found it was from my excellent old friend Sir Jasper Thornley, of Thornley Hall, Lancashire. It ran as follows:—

MY DEAR ——, The bearer of this note is a lady whom I am desirous of serving to the utmost extent of my ability. That she is really the widow she represents herself to be, and her son consequently heir to the magnificent estates now in possession of the Emsdales—you remember how they tripped up my heels at the last election for the borough of ——! I have no moral doubt whatever; but whether her claim can be legally established is another affair. She will tell you the story herself. It was a heartless business; but Sir Harry, who, you have no doubt heard broke his neck in a steeple-chase about ten months ago, was a sad wild dog. My advice is, to look out for a sharp, clever, persevering attorney, and set him upon a hunt for evidence. If he succeed, I undertake to pay him a thousand pounds over and above his legal costs. He'll nose it out for that, I should think!

Yours truly, JASPER THORNLEY.

P. S.—Emsdale's son, I have just heard—confound their impudence!—intends, upon the strength of this accession of property, to stand for the county against my old friend ——, at the dissolution which cannot now be far off.—If you don't think one thousand pounds enough, I'll double it. A cruelly ill used lady! and as to her son, he's the very image of the late Sir Harry Compton. In haste,—J. T. I reopen the letter to enclose a cheque for a hundred pounds, which you will pay the attorney on account. They'll die hard, you may be sure. If it could come off next assizes, we should spoil them for the county,—J. P.

'Assizes' 'county'—'Sir Harry Compton,' I involuntary murmured, as I finished the perusal of my old friend's incoherent epistle.—'What on earth can the eccentric old fox-hunter mean?' 'Show the lady in.' I added in a louder tone to the clerk. She presently appeared accompanied by a remarkably handsome boy about six years of age, both attired in deep mourning. The lady approached with a timid, furtive step and glance, as if she were entering the den of some grim ogre, rather than the quiet study of a civilized lawyer of mature age. I was at once struck by her singular and touching loveliness. I have never seen a woman that so completely realized the highest Madonna type of youthful matronly beauty—its starlight radience and mild serenity of sorrow. Her voice, too, gentle and low, had a tone of patient sadness in it strangely affecting. She was evidently a person, if not of high birth, of refined manners and cultivated mind; and I soon ceased to wonder at warm hearted old Jasper's enthusiasm in her cause. Habitually, however, on my guard against first impressions, I courteously but coldly invited her first to a seat, and next to a more intelligible relation of her business with me than could be gathered from the letter of which she was the bearer. She complied, and I was soon in possession of the following facts and fancies:

Violet Dalston and her sister Emily had lived for several years in close and somewhat straightened retirement with their father, Captain Dalston, at Rock Cottage, on the outskirts of a village about six miles distant from Leeds, when Captain Dalston, who was an enthusiastic angler, introduced to his home a gentleman about twenty-five years of age, of handsome exterior and gentlemanly manners, with whom congeniality of tastes and pursuits had made him acquainted. This stranger was introduced to Violet (my interesting client) and her sister, as a Mr. Henry Grainger, the son of a London merchant. The object of his wanderings through the English counties, was, he said, to recruit his health, which had become affected by too close application to business, and to gratify his taste for angling, sketching, and so on. He became a frequent visitor; and the result, after the lapse of about three months, was a proposal for the hand of Violet. His father allowed him, he stated, five hundred pounds per annum; but in order not to mortally offend the old gentleman, who was determined, if his son married at all, it should be either to rank or riches, it would be necessary to conceal the marriage till after his death. This commonplace story had been, it appeared, implicitly credited by Captain Dalston; and Violet Dalston and Henry Grainger were united in holy wedlock—not in the village church near where Captain Dalston resided, but in one of the Leeds churches. The witnesses were the bride's father and sister, and a Mr. Bilston, a neighbor. This marriage had taken place rather more than seven years since, and its sole fruit was the fine looking boy who accompanied his mother to my office. Mr. Grainger, soon after the marriage, persuaded the Dalstons to leave Rock Cottage, and take up their abode in a picturesque village in Cumberland, where he had purchased a small house, with some garden and ornamental grounds attached.

Five years rolled away—not, as I could discern, too happily—when the very frequent absences of Violet's husband in London, as he alleged (all her letters to him were directed to the post office, St. Martin's le Grand—till called for) were suddenly greatly prolonged; and on his return home, after an absence of more than three months, he abruptly informed the family that the affairs of his father, who was dying, had been found to be greatly embarrassed, and that nothing was left for him and them but emigration to America, with such means as might be saved from the elder Grainger's property. After much opposition and lamentation on the part of Emily Dalston and her father, it was finally conceded as Violet's husband wished; and the emigration was to have taken place on the following spring, Henry Grainger to follow them the instant he could wind up his father's affairs. About 3 months before their intended departure—this very time twelvemonth, as nearly as may be —Captain Dalston was suddenly called to London, to close the eyes of an only sister. This sad duty fulfilled, he was about to return, when, passing towards dusk down St. James street, he saw Henry Grainger, habited in a remarkable sporting dress, standing with several other gentlemen at the door of one of the club houses. Hastening across the street to accost him, he was arrested for a minute or two by a line of carriages which turned sharply out of Piccadilly; and when he did reach the other side, young Mr. Grainger and his companions had vanished. He inquired of the porter, and was assured that no Mr. Grainger senior or junior was known there. Persisting that he had seen him standing within the doorway, and describing his dress, the man with an insolent laugh exclaimed that the gentleman who wore that dress was the famous sporting baronet. Sir Henry Compton!

Bewildered and suspecting, he hardly knew what; Captain Dalston, in defiance of young Grainger's oft-iterated injunctions, determined to call at his father's residence, which he had always understood to be in Leadenhall street. No such name was, however, known there, and an examination, to which he was advised, of the 'Commercial Directory' failed to discover the whereabouts of the pretended London merchant. Heart-sick and spirit-wearied, Captain Dalston returned home only to die. A violent cold, caught by imprudently riding in such bitter weather as it then was, on the outside of the coach, aggravated by distress of mind, brought his already enfeebled frame to the grave in less than two months after his arrival in Cumberland. He left his daughters unprovided for, except by the legal claim which the eldest possessed on a man who, he feared, would turn out to be a worthless impostor. The penalty he paid for consenting to so imprudent a marriage was indeed a heavy and bitter one. Months passed away, and still no tidings of Violet's husband reached the sister's sad and solitary home.—At length, stimulated by apprehensions of approaching destitution—whose foot was already on the threshold—and desirous of gratifying a whim of Emily's, Violet consented to visit the neighborhood of Compton Castle (the seat, her sister had ascertained, of the 'celebrated sporting baronet,' as the porter called him,) on their way to London, where they had relatives who, though not rich, might be able to assist them in obtaining some decent means of maintenance. They alighted at the 'Compton Arms,' and the first object which met the astonished gaze of the sisters as they entered the principal sitting room of the inn was a full length portrait of Violet's husband, in the exact sporting-dress described to them by their father. An ivory tablet attached to the lower part of the frame informed the gazer that the picture was a copy, by permission, of the celebrated portrait by Sir Thomas Lawrence, of Sir Harry Compton, Baronet. They were confounded, overwhelmed, bewildered. Sir Harry, they found, had been killed about eight months previously in a steeple-chase; and the castles and estates had passed, in default of direct issue, to a distant relative, Lord Emsdale. Their story was soon bruited about, and, in the opinion of many persons, was confirmed beyond reasonable question by the extraordinary likeness they saw or fancied between Violet's son and the deceased baronet. Amongst others, Sir Jasper Thornley was a firm believer in the identity of Henry Grainger and Sir Harry Compton; but, unfortunately, beyond the assertion of the sisters that the portrait of Sir Harry was young Grainger's portrait, the real or imaginary likeness of the child to his reputed father, and some score of letters addressed to Violet by her husband, which Sir Jasper persisted were in Sir Harry's handwriting, though few others did, (the hand, I saw at glance, was a disguised one,) not one tittle of evidence had he been able to procure for love or money. As a last resource, he had consigned the case to me, and the vulpine sagacity of a London attorney.

I suppose my countenance must be what is called a 'speaking' one, for I had made no reply in words to this statement of a case upon which I and a 'London attorney' were to ground measures for wresting a magnificent estate from the clutch of a powerful nobleman, and by 'next assizes' too—when the lady's beautiful eyes filled with tears, and turning to her child, she murmured in that gentle, agitating voice of hers, 'My poor boy!' The words I was about to utter died on my tongue, and I remained silent for several minutes.—After all, thought I, this lady is evidently sincere, in her expressive conviction that Sir Harry Compton was her husband. If her surmise be correct, evidence of the truth may perhaps be obtained by a keen search for it; and since Sir Jasper guarantees the expense —— I rang the bell. 'Step over to Cursitor street,' said I to the clerk as soon as he entered, 'and if Mr. Ferret is within, ask him to step over immediately.' Ferret was just the man for such commission. Indefatigable, resolute, sharp-witted, and of a ceaseless, remorseless activity, a secret or a fact had need be very profoundly riddled for him not to reach and fish it up. I have heard solemn doubts expressed by attorneys opposed to him as to whether he ever really and truly slept at all—that is, a genuine Christian sleep, as distinguished from a merely canine one, with one eye always half open. Mr. Ferret had been for many years Mr. Simpkins' managing clerk; but ambition, and the increasing requirements of a considerable number of young Ferrets, determined him on commencing business on his own account; and about six months previous to the period of which I am now writing, a brass door-plate in Cursitor street, Chancery Lane, informed the public that Samuel Ferret, Esq., attorney-at-law, might be consulted within.

Mr. Samuel Ferret was fortunately at home; and after a very brief interval made his appearance, entering with a short professional bow to me, and a very profound one to the lady, in whom his quick gray eye seemed intuitively to espy a client. As soon as he was seated, I handed him Sir Jasper's letter. He perused it carefully three times, examined the seal attentively, and handed back with—'An excellent letter as far as it goes, and very much to the point. You intend, I suppose, that I should undertake this little affair?'

'Yes, if, after hearing the lady's case, you feel disposed to venture upon it.'

Mr. Samuel Ferret's note-book was out in an instant; and the lady, uninterrupted by a syllable from him, re-told her story.

'Good, very good, as far as it goes,' remarked undismayed Samuel Ferret when she concluded; 'only it can scarcely be said to go very far. Moral presumption, which, in our courts unfortunately, isn't worth a groat.—Never mind. Magna est veritas, and so on.—When, madam, did you say Sir Harry—Mr. Grainger—first began to urge emigration?'

'Between two and three years ago.'

'Have the goodness, if you please, to hand me the baronetage.' I did so. 'Good,' resumed Ferret, after turning over the leaves for a few seconds, 'very good as far as it goes. It is now just two years and eight months since Sir Harry succeeded his uncle in the title and estates. You would no doubt soon have heard, madam, that your husband was dead. Truly the heart of man is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; yet such conduct towards such a lady.'——Ferret intended no mere compliment; he was only giving utterance to the thoughts passing thro' his brain; but his client's mounting color warned him to change the topic, which he very adroitly did. 'You intend, of course,' said he, addressing me, to 'to proceed at law? No rumble-tumble through the spiritual courts?'

'Certainly, if sufficient evidence to justify such a course can be obtained.'

'Exactly; Doe, demise of Compton, versus Emsdale; action in ejectment, judgment of ouster. Our friend Doe, madam—a very accommodating fellow is Doe, will, if we succeed, put you in possession as natural guardian of your son. 'Well, sir,' turning to me, 'I may as well give you an acknowledgment for that cheque. I undertake the business, and shall, if possible, be off to Leeds by this evening's mail.' The acknowledgment was given and Mr. Ferret, pocketing the cheque, departed in high glee.

'The best man, madam, in all broad London,' said I in answer to Mrs. Grainger's somewhat puzzled looked, 'you could have retained. Fond as he seems, and in fact is, of money—what sensible person is not? Lord Elmsdale could not bribe him with his earldom, now that he is fairly engaged in your behalf, I will not say to betray you, but to abate his indefatigable activity in furtherance of your interest. Attorneys madam, be assured, whatever nursery tales may teach, have, the very sharpest of them, their points of honor.' The lady and her son departed, and I turned again the almost forgotten 'case.'

No Chance for Men of Moderate Means—Dry Goods and Hardware below par—What does Sell Well—Prices Current, &c.

The subjoined extract of a private letter, the Philadelphia North American states is from a gentleman who sailed from New York with a large amount of means and merchandize, for the purpose of engaging in regular trade in San Francisco. His statements may be relied on as those of a cool and calm observer:

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1, 1849.

We are quite lively in this new city of the West. Vessels are arriving daily—most of them from down the coast and the Sandwich Islands, with full loads of anxious gold diggers and goods. Among the recent arrivals from New York are the Whiton, H. Nesmith, Sylvie de Grasse, Iowa, and Sacramento, generally in about 140 days from port to port.

Goods of some kinds sell well, and among them I may enumerate provisions, groceries, lumber, coal, wood, horses and wagons. Dry goods can be purchased as cheap, or cheaper, than in Philadelphia, and crockery, iron, glassware, and many kinds of hardware will not pay expenses. The difficulties attending the landing of goods from vessels have not been overrated, and many of the lightering scows and boats in use have been sunk by the violence of the winds. The climate is very trying on the constitution, on account of the severe changes in the atmosphere. The comforts of life are few and far between. It is impossible to realize here what you would call a good dinner—it cannot be had.—The chief reliance is upon fresh beef, and provisions brought from the States, and there are no fish, oysters or game. Add to this the fact that the labor to be done is exceedingly hard, and that to dig gold successfully one must have more than ordinary powers of endurance, and you have my experience of the gold region. Those who have made most money here are land speculators and merchants of Chili and the Islands.

Gold is plenty, but very hard to be got, and the average yield to the diggers may be set down at from one to five ounces. There is no chance here for a young man of but moderate means, as it costs more to start in business than it does at home, and it must inevitably result in the disappointment of many young men coming with that purpose. Board is $16 per week, and house rent extravagant, as high as 100 to $200 per month being demanded and paid for a mere one story shed, 10 by 15 feet in dimensions. There is, besides, nothing of comfort or cleanliness, and every thing is owned and controlled by a few speculators in the town. It has been with some difficulty that I have secured a lot on which to place my store.

Silver is plenty, and small change hard to pass, but gold coin is in active demand. The country back of us is much troubled by the Indians, and even among our own community there is scarcely a sign of law or order.

In haste, yours, B.

P. S.—Land in San Francisco is very high, and lots in the business parts of the town sell at from 100 to $500 per 20 feet front by 137 deep. In Monterey lots 137 by 137 feet command from 500 to $2,500 per lot. In Benecia City 125 by 150 feet for 1,000 to $5,000; Sacramento City 50 to $200; Stockton $50. Laboring hands are worth from 6 to $10 per day. Small houses, 10 by 20 feet in size, and one story high, rent at from 100 to $200 per month. A good store, 20 by 40, and one story high, rents for $3,000 per year.

Close of the German Revolution.—The Frankfort correspondent of the Boston Atlas, under date of June 26, thus details the dispersion of the Frankfort Assembly:—

The great drama of German Revolution may now be considered as closed. The Assembly elected by the people, to found popular right against princely power, after struggling so long in vain to accomplish its task, has at length been dispersed by force of arms, and it will hardly find another spot in Germany on which to assemble again in safety. On the 17th inst. the President of the assembly received a note from the Wurtemberg Ministry, forbidding any more sittings at Stuttgard.—He called one, nevertheless, for the next day at three o'clock, in the usual place. Long before that hour, however, troops were ordered there by the Government, who immediately destroyed the interior arrangement of the building, (which had been fitted up expressly for the Assembly,) and posted themselves around to prevent all entrance. At three o'clock the members of the Assembly, who had learned the measures taken by the Government, approached, notwithstanding, all in a body, three abreast, headed by the President, (Loewe,) on one side of whom walked Uhland, the great German poet, and on the other the venerable Schott, father-in-law of Roemer, President of the Wurtemberg Ministry. On being informed that entrance to the place was forbidden, the President began to protest, declaring as traitors to the country the perpetrators of this outrage on the representatives of the people, when the drums were ordered to beat, drowning his voice. As he still insisted on proceeding the troops were ordered to advance with fixed bayonets. In the face of this the members stood firm. Uhland is said to have laid bare his breast, and called upon the soldiers to strike if they wished. The infantry refused to obey the order given, but a company of cavalry coming up at the moment, being commanded to charge, obeyed with drawn swords. The people rushed in to rescue the members, who seemed determined to be trampled under the horses' feet rather than retire. Many were in great danger, being thrown down by the horses; but, with the exception of one or two who were brutally struck by the soldiers with the flat of their swords, none were seriously injured. They then retired together to a hotel, where the next day they resolved to transfer their place of sitting to Carlsruhe, in Baden, meeting there the 25th, (yesterday,) but the defeat of the Badeners by the Prussians, which has just taken place not far from this town, will make it impossible to carry out this resolution; so that it is very doubtful if the German National Assembly, which has been for the past year the centre of so many hopes, ever comes together again, at least in sufficient number to give the shade of legality to its proceedings.

Things in New York.

"Samivel Weller" has said some good things in his day, but never more truthfully than when he advertised his own gallant sex to—"beware of the vidders." It is doubly evident to me from "a case in hand" that "Sam" wasn't green about "vidders"—and, while I shall endeavor to confine myself to the facts in the case, it will also be necessary for me to suppress all real names etc.—trusting to my incognito as a shield from all harm—assassination or what not.

There was a gay company of young people boarding at No. —, H—— street, and none were respected more than Mr. and Mrs. H——; he a successful merchant down town, of wealth —she the only daughter of a respectable family residing in Williamsburg. To all appearances they lived devotedly attached to each other and were happy, though scarce twelve months had rolled round, since they solemnly vowed before Hymen's altar "to love, cherish, etc."—but that matters not. About a month ago a "vidder" yes, a veritable "female vidder" came on from Philadelphia to visit her aunt, the hostess of the house, and like many young and handsome "vidders" she had a pair of killing black eyes, and, in fact, almost irresistable in appearance. Her presence soon got the gents of the house on a "string" —that is, she was universally admired, and some dared even to adore her. Now Mr. H— was as fine a looking man as you would meet any day, and withal a great admirer of the fair sex. Mrs. H. his wife, was a fine looking woman and intelligent, but quite retired in her manners. It was during the temporary absence of his wife to her fraternal home that Mr. H. made love to the "vidder" in good earnest, and but a few days had elapsed before he was sufficiently encouraged in his suit to prepare for an elopement to parts unknown.—It was arranged that they should go South, and accordingly Mr. H. with his usual promptness engaged passage for two by Railroad to Philadelphia the day prior to their departure.—The day arrived, and as previously agreed upon the two "run-aways" were to meet at the depot in Jersey City—and they did.—About ten minutes before the morning train left, a gentleman might have been seen arm in arm with a lady in black closely veiled entering the cars, and the next moment both were seated. The sequel is short—soon after the cars started the engine whistled, etc., Mr. H. beheld the face of his own dear wedded wife unveiled, and in full view, laughing heartily at him and his folly, while the "vidder" at her aunt's was almost convulsed with laughter at the "joke" she had planned and done up so brown.

Mr. and Mrs. H. returned after a short stay at Philadelphia, perfectly reconciled to one another and to the "vidder" in particular, who was now more respected and admired than ever by all in B—— street, and all that knew her.

Again I say, "beware of the vidders," for it is fair to suppose that they must necessarily understand the "tender emotion" better than those who haven't been there.

TWO OF 'EM.—"Scraps," of the Tuscaloosa Observer, is "some punkins" sure, if we may judge from the following laconic correspondence:

Scraps used to manage the business affairs of an uncle in Pittsburg, who, among other peculiarities, was very economical of words. One day the old gentleman, hearing that there was a boat at the wharf, by which he wished to make a large shipment of coal, he wrote thus to Scraps:

Dear Scraps: ; board. Yours, NUNCLE.

Scraps beat him, though, at his own game. He wrote back:

Dear Nunc: : Yours, SCRAPS.

Explanation—Se-mi-col-on board. (See my coal on board.) Col-on. (Coal on.)

The following excellent remarks are gathered from the novel of 'Clarissa;' and as few of our readers, probably, ever had opportunity or patience to glean the true wisdom of Richardson from its mass of verbiage, we will set these real diamonds of thought in our Book, and hope our young readers will transfer them to their hearts.

MAXIMS FOR LOVERS.

Love takes deepest root in the steadiest mind.

It is a degree of impurity in a woman to love a sensual man.

True love is ever accompanied with fear and reference.

Platonic love is Platonic nonsense.

The proof of true love is respect, not freedom.

But few first impressions ought to be trusted or encouraged in love.

A lady can have but small hopes of a lover, over whom his worthy relations can have no influence.

MAXIMS ON MARRIAGE.

It is neither just or honest to marry, where there can be no love.

Marriage with the best prospects is a very solemn engagement; enough to make a young creature's heart tremble, when she thinks seriously of it.

Marry first, and love will come after, is a shocking assertion; since a thousand things may happen to make the state but barely tolerable, even when it was entered into with mutual affection.

How unhappy must that marriage be in which the husband can have no confidence in the affection of his wife!

How much easier and pleasanter it is for a woman to obey the man of her choice, than one she would not have married could she have avoided it.

Invectives against marriage are a reflection upon the laws and good order of society.

Marriage is the highest state of friendship.

No matter whom that woman marries, who has a slight notion of matrimonial duties—she will surely be unhappy.

It is dreadful as well as dishonest to marry a man for his wealth, in the hope of his death.

Exalted qualities may be sunk in a low and unequal marriage.

REFLECTION ON WOMEN.

The uselessness and the expensiveness of modern women multiply bachelors.

Vile men owe much of their vileness to women of character, who hardly ever scruple to receive them into their society, if the men are rich, talented and fashionable, even though they have been guilty of ever so much baseness to other women.

'Had I found a character for virtue had been generally necessary to recommend me to the sex, I would,' said Lovelace, 'have a greater regard for my morals.'

DON'T TATTLE.—What need it concern you if John Snooks is courting Sal Thompson? They are undoubtedly rational beings, and can conduct their love affair in a becoming manner without any of your interference. What if Leb Short has got a new dress? It is probably paid for and cost you nothing.—Therefore why need you interest yourself so deeply about it. What if the principal merchant in this city has become insolvent?—You are not among his creditors, and for heaven's sake why can't you let the man have a little enjoyment? Suppose Darcas Swift does go to a dancing school? It costs you nothing, and as she has a frail constitution, a little exercise of this kind may benefit her health.—This intermeddling with other's affairs to the utter neglect of their own, is becoming too prevalent with a certain class in our cities.—There are none of us who escape misfortunes or are free from error; but to be made the butt and by-word of a set of gossiping, intermeddling simpletons, merely on account of an evitable misfortune, or a single error committed, is far from agreeable. If this class of beings have any business of their own, we hope that out of shame for themselves, and for the credit of their relatives they will attend to it.

APYROTYPE.—A recent London paper gives the following account of the newly invented process of striking printing types from cold metal, an invention which bids fair to be a great step in the art of arts:

A machine which promises to revolutionize the present system of typography, invented by Mr. Petit, after years of thought and careful experiment was exhibited last Saturday at the meeting of the Royal Society; and having elicited the highest approbation from the members of that distinguished body, was yesterday opened to private view in Bartlett's buildings, Holborn. The object of the invention is to perfect by means of self-acting machinery, printing types of a durability almost infinite. This effected by the use of hard metals, copper being the material ultimately adopted by the inventor after many experiments. The new process in type making, as shown by this invention brings the most important and intellectual department of industry into harmony with the mechanical genius and improvements of the age.

Instead of the old and complicated processes by which type were formerly founded, a strip of copper wire, upon a revolving wheel, passes through a series of wheels, levers, pulleys and cranks of the simplest description in reality, however complicated in words; the type is struck or "punched" at the same moment its size is mathematically determined; and after passing through two other simple machines, is ready for use. By means of a small steam engine applied to the type making machine sixty per minute may be struck, or thirty-six thousand per diem. The clearness and beauty of the impression of the types thus produced, must delight all connoisseurs. In the new process, instead of fusing the metals, and pouring into moulds to give the necessary form, the inventor of the apyrotype machine effects this by a mechanical operation at ordinary temperatures, chiefly by the means of power pressure and the use of steel dies and matrices.

Singular Mode of keeping Fish alive.—Those worthy individuals who take delight in Izaak Walton's art, and who, moreover, are in the habit of sending the result of their sports to their epicurean acquaintances, must learn an indispensable piece of information, viz: how to keep fish fresh. This may be done by soaking the soft part of bread in brandy, and inserting it into the gill of the fish, while it is yet alive, and afterwards sprinkling it over gently with brandy. Thus prepared, and carefully packed in straw, the fish will keep alive ten or twelve days, as may be proved by putting them in water at the end of that time, when, after a few hours' immersion, it will recover from its protracted drunkeness.—London Literary Gazette.

Breach of Promise. In a late trial for breach of promise of marriage, the court laid down the following law:

"If a man offers to marry a woman, or promises to do it, he is not bound to comply with it, unless she agree to accept him. It takes two to make a marriage contract as well as any other bargain. Where a man has a contract of marriage with a woman, and merely puts it off until she becomes impatient, she cannot drag him into court and demand damages, unless she has formally offered to perform the contract on her part, and he dishonestly refuses and repudiates the contract, because perhaps he would prefer the marriage to the suit, and he ought to have a chance to make a choice."

Cost of the Crevasse.—It is stated by the municipal authorities of New Orleans, that the expenses incurred in stopping the Sauve crevasse exceed $30,000.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR GOVERNOR,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT,

OF PARKE COUNTY.

FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

JAMES H. LANE,

OF DEARBORN COUNTY.

FOR CONGRESS,

ANDREW J. HARLAN,

OF GRANT COUNTY

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1849.

SEND IN THE RETURNS!

We shall be obliged if our friends in all the surrounding counties will send us CORRECT returns of the vote for Governor, Lieut.Governor, Congress, and Legislature by the first opportunity—either mail or private conveyance.

The joint Board of Trustees and Visitors of the "Fort Wayne Female College," on Monday last, elected the following persons to constitute "The Faculty" of said institution.

Rev. CYRUS NUTT, A. M., President and Professor of Moral Science.

Rev. GEORGE H. ROUND, A. M., Vice President and Professor of Ancient Languages.

Mr. ALEXANDER C. HUESTIS, A. M., Professor of Mathematics and Natural Science.

Miss ABIGAL RIES, Teacher of Modern Languages, Painting and Drawing.

Mrs. MARIA HUBBELL, Teacher in Primary department,

The first College year commences on the last Wednesday in September.

There have been 142 young ladies in attendance during the past collegiate year.

SHOCKING AFFAIR.—On Sunday night last, about 10 o'clock, Josiah Blackmon and L. Martin were attacked on the canal bank, near Harmer's ford, by a boatman named Edward Rice, who after some scuffling drove them both into the river; Martin swam across, but Blackman was drowned. It being dark at the time, it was not noticed that Blackman was drowned; but as he did not return home, inquiries were set on foot the next day; the river was dragged for some days without success; but yesterday the body was discovered at the mill dam about a quarter of a mile below. A coroner's jury was summoned, but at the time of going to press, they have not got through with the case.

Rice absconded on Monday, and has not been heard of since.

Health of Fort Wayne.—Since our last, there have been three deaths by cholera in this city,—a German widow named Weseman, and two of her children: a third child has since died, but it is said to have been by some other disease. It appears that the sickness of this family was caused by the grossest imprudence in diet.

There have been no cases since Wednesday, and the city is more healthy than usual at this season of the year.

☞ The canal boat Carolina, which arrived here yesterday from Lafayette, lost three of her crew by cholera. Two were buried at Huntington and one at this place.

Cholera in Huntington.—Huntington has been sorely afflicted. By a letter from there, dated Sunday last, we learn that up to that date, there had been eleven deaths, and since then we are informed that they have averaged 4 or 5 per day. Most of the inhabitants have fled,—not more than 150 remaining in the place.

Cholera in Lafayette.—The cholera still continues with unabated violence in Lafayette. From the 3d July to the 31st 139 citizens of that place fell victims to the pestilence.

☞ The cholera appears to have subsided in Aurora, Dearborn County. Though it is only a very small village, and nearly half of the inhabitants fled on the first appearance of the pestilence, one hundred and twenty-two fell victims to it between the 27th of May and 13th of July.

Another Indian War in Florida.—The Seminole Indians have made an outbreak on Indian River, St. Lucie County, South Florida.—They have plundered and burnt several houses, and shot some persons; several others, chiefly females, are missing, and it is feared have been carried off by the savages. The greatest consternation exists along the frontier, and the inhabitants are all fleeing to the settlements for safety. The citizens of St. Augustine were preparing to go in pursuit of the savages, and dispatches have been sent to Washington for assistance. There are said to be at least two hundred and fifty warriors still remaining in Florida—a number sufficient to give much trouble before they can be subdued.

A word to the Naturalized Citizens.

It is well known to you that some whigs have cunningly sought to inveigle you—or at least the German portion—by nominating Mr. Mahler for the Legislature. We do hope that no German democrat will be weak enough to fall into the trap, and sacrifice his principles merely for the sake of voting for a countryman. Mr. Mahler, we have already shown is not worthy your support, and though a German, is opposed to having any more Germans come to this country, and would doubtless if opportunity offered vote for any measure calculated to further the proscriptive views of the Native faction. The democratic party, it is known, has always stood by the rights and privileges of the foreign citizens, and it is surely the duty of the latter to reciprocate by a steadfast support of the party which has befriended them.

We trust the vote of the Germans next Monday will show to the world that the whigs have underrated their intelligence and patriotism, and that they are not to be seduced from their allegiance to the principles advocated by the democratic party.

To the Free Soilers.

A systematic effort is being made to induce the free soilers to believe that Mr. Harlan, the democratic candidate for Congress, is not as favorable to their views as his opponent Judge Kilgore. The Times at this place says that Harlan totally evaded the slavery question in his speech at this place. The editor of the Times is so notoriously addicted to romancing that we did not think it necessary to contradict this assertion. A similar charge was made by the Decatur Gazette; and the Winchester Patriot copies both charges, and contrasts Mr. Harlan's course in Randolph county, where he avowed himself strongly opposed to slavery, with his silence on the same question in this part of the State.

The Marion Western Union, an independent free soil paper, investigates those charges, and proves them to be unfounded, by the admissions of Kilgore himself! Every one at all acquainted with Mr. Harlan, knows him to be, and always to have been, strongly in favor of the free soil doctrine:—indeed we heard that urged as an objection against his being the democratic elector for this district.

The Western Union completely demolishes the charge, and is so well satisfied that Mr. Harlan is deserving the support of the free soilers that the editor publicly avows his intention of voting for him in preference to Judge Kilgore. The editor of the Western Union is a consistent free soiler, having no particular attachment to the democratic party, as is shown by his expressed determination to vote for Mr. Mason for Governor, on the same grounds that he votes for Harlan for Congress.

We copy a portion of the Union's remarks on this subject, and regret that our limits will not allow us to present the whole article to our readers. It is worthy a careful perusal.

"The charge made by the Fort Wayne Times, as above alluded to by the Winchester Patriot, and which we have both seen and read ourself, we have every reason to believe is a mistake. The charge is most positively denied by any one who heard the discussion of Harlan and Kilgore, when at Fort Wayne—but on the contrary, all with whom we have conversed on the subject (and we have taken some trouble to learn the truth) are directly in opposition to the Times. Even Judge Kilgore himself, admitted in his speech at this place, that Harlan was not mum on the subject of slavery, as the Times says, but defined his position there against the further extension of slavery. And also said that Daniel Read, a prominent democrat of Allen county took exceptions to Harlan's remarks on that subject.

"We have heard considerable said about Harlan's equivocations in the county of Randolph, but if the Patriot is to be believed, it seems that he was quite plain on the great question of Liberty in that county, for it says; "Mr. Harlan while in this county, prated long and loud about his opposition to slavery, and even declared it to be the paramount question at issue in the coming Congressional election, and that he was the bold and fearless advocate of the non-extension of slavery."

"We confess, for a season it was difficult for us to determine what course to pursue as it regards the election of a Congressman in this district, and have watched with much care and attention the progress of the canvass so far, and duly weighed the relative positions of the two candidates to the present administration, and are very forcibly struck with the just and sensible remarks of the editor of the National Era, in which he says: "One thing is certain. Before a free soil man can sustain a candidate for Congress belonging to the administration party, he should require positive outlandy cogent evidence that, if elected, he will not suffer his advocacy and action in behalf of freedom to be faltered by administration or party influences."

"Taking, then, an impartial view of the whole ground, and believing, as we do, that the great cause of Human Rights is at least as safe, if not safer in the hands of Harlan as Judge Kilgore, and knowing that the force of party ties and party influences, (for Kilgore declared in his speech here that he "stands where he always has stood") are not as likely to bear upon his conduct if in the Congress of the Nation as upon Judge Kilgore, we have concluded to support Harlan, and such we believe to be the resolve of a large portion of the Free Soil men in the county of Grant."

Democrats! Look well to your Tickets!

We have reason to believe that an effort will be made at the polls to palm off spurious tickets on our friends. A desperate attempt is to be made to elect Kilgore, and nothing will be left undone that may tend to secure this object.

Look out for fraudulent Tickets! don't take any except from those you know to be democrats. We give below a copy of the genuine Simon Pure DEMOCRATIC TICKET, and hope every democrat in the county will vote it.

For Governor.
Joseph A. Wright.

For Lieut. Governor,
James H. Lane.

For Congress,
Andrew J. Harlan.

For Representative,
Ochmig Bird.

For County Commissioner—1st Dist.
Noah Clem.

For County Commissioner—2d Dist.
William Robinson.

Every democrat should feel it his duty to vote the entire Democratic Ticket. Our candidates are all of our own selecting and worthy the support of the democratic party.—Let there be no swapping of votes; we have nothing to gain by such a course, for we can easily, if we will but try, elect every man on our ticket. We have reason to believe that Kilgore's friends will offer to trade off any or all other whig candidates to secure votes for him for Congress—for this every else would willingly be sacrificed. We hope no democrat will listen to any such proposals, but will vote the democratic ticket, the whole democratic ticket, and nothing but the democratic ticket.

Look out for Sunday Circulars!

The Times has so much to say on this subject that we are induced to suspect that something of the kind is in contemplation by the whigs, Pay no attention to such documents, but do your duty to your country faithfully, by attending the polls early on Monday and voting the entire Democratic Ticket

Great Days' Work.—On Friday the 20th ult. no less than five executions took place.—Conrad Vender was executed in Baltimore for the murder of Mrs. Cooper;—he appeared quite penitent, and made a full confession.—Matthew Wood was hung in New York for poisoning his wife;—he asserted his innocence of the horrid crime to the last moment of his existence. In Charleston, South Carolina, three negroes were hung for a riot in the city workhouse the week previous.

Recognition of the Independence of Hungary.—A large meeting of Hungarians and the friends of Hungary was recently held in New York, at which a memorial was adopted addressed to the President of the United States asking the recognition of the independence of Hungary. The Secretary of State has returned the following answer to one of the officers of the meeting in question.

SIR:—I am requested by the President to acknowledge the receipt of your letter to him of the 9th instant, and the printed account of the proceedings of the meeting of the Hungarians and others in New York. These proceedings had not escaped attention.

The government and people of this country are profoundly interested in the events which are now passing in Hungary, and all information calculated to throw light on the present struggle between that country and Austria & Russia, cannot fail to be welcome.

It is the policy and practice of the United States to recognise all governments which exhibit to the world convincing proofs of their power to maintain themselves. If Hungary sustains herself in this unequal contest, there is no reason why we should not recognise her independence.

Congress, it is believed, would sanction such a measure, and this government would be most happy in that event, to enter into commercial as well as diplomatic relations with independent Hungary.

I am, respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN M. CLAYTON.

Mr. Tigar:

SIR,—Allow me in your columns of to day to notice Mr. Withers' attempt to reply to my article of last week. I there stated that the cholera was here, and referred to nearly all the Physicians of the place in proof of my assertion. I charged Mr. W. with stating what was not the fact, viz: That he had been told by the Physicians that there was no cholera here. This week he does not attempt to reply to that charge, but simply says he relies for information solely upon the enlightened and intelligent Board of Health. Now, I care not what he may say on the subject, I know that he was informed by some of the most respectable Physicians of this place, that they had had cases of cholera; and I know also that the Board of Health had made out a report for his paper of last week, stating there was no cholera here, and were only deterred from publishing that fact through fear of a counter report from another Physician of equal intelligence and respectability; and I know also that Mr. W. knew it.

He very kindly recommends me to pay attention to my books, and hopes in time I may be able to discriminate between diseases. I assure Mr. W. I shall do so; and whether or not I have brains enough to become in time a good Physician, I shall at least never pretend to palm myself off upon any community as a Doctor of Medicine until some Medical College has given me that title;—and that is more, perhaps, than can with truth be said of all the members composing our intelligent Board of Health. STUDENT.

☞ We do not exactly admire the style of the above,—it is rather more personal, we think, than the occasion calls for. STUDENT, however claimed the right of replying to the attack on his former communication, by the editor of the Times, which we could not with propriety refuse. The controversy had now better be allowed to drop.—Ed.

BOARD OF HEALTH, TOLEDO, July 30.

Monthly statement from Cholera, in the city of Toledo, from its first appearance June 30th to July 30th, inclusive as taken from the Journal of the proceedings of the Board.—There have been 93 cases and 53 deaths.

By order of the Board,
L. S. LOWNSBURY, Sec'y.

BOARD OF HEALTH, July 31, 4 P. M.

11 new cases, and 5 deaths from Cholera within the last 24 hours.

L. S. LOWNSBURY, Sec'y.

TOLEDO, August 2, 1849.

11 new cases and 4 deaths from the Cholera within the last 24 hours.

Fearful ravages of the Cholera in Sandusky City.—A telegraphic dispatch from Sandusky City to Mr. Beals, states that there were forty five burials in that place yesterday. (July 29th.) Among those who have died are John H. Ballard, Mr. Patrick son of the keeper of the Tontine Hotel, Mrs. Frank Witherell, Erastus Cook and Mrs. Atwood.—Toledo Commercial Republican.

SANDUSKY, August 2d.

Thirteen interments yesterday. Twenty-three patients in hospital: few cases 10 deaths in 24 hours, of which seven were in hospital. Cholera abating.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.

Interments on Saturday, from Cholera, 11; other diseases, 15: Sunday, Cholera, 9: other diseases, 18. Interments during the week ending yesterday—cholera, 116; other diseases, 126.

Five steamboats were burned on Saturday night at our wharf—the Algoma, the Phœnix San Francisco, Mary & Dubuque. Several lives were lost. A severe riot occured between the firemen and some wretches who were stealing from the burning boats in which the latter used firearms but were finally driven off. Fifteen or twenty firemen were wounded.

CINCINNATI, July 31.

Interments for the last 24 hours—Cholera, 9; other diseases, 25.

NEW ORLEANS, July 28.

Brevet Major Gates died of Cholera at Fredericksburg, Texas, on the 25th of June. The steamer arrived at New Orleans on the 24th ult., with advices from Texas to the 19th.—The crops in Texas are said to be promising, although rain was rather abundant.

The cholera was raging in Fredericksburg, 30 persons having died of it.

The Texas papers abound with the usual number of murders. The Indians had attacked a U. S. train of wagons between Bexar and Eagle Pass, killed thirteen teamsters and captured all the mails belonging to the train. A general war was anticipated by the Mexicans. Lieut. Walker's rangers are stationed at San Patricio.

NEW YORK, August 2.

There has been reported since yesterday, 159 cases and 62 deaths of which 128 cases and 50 deaths were in private practice.

DETROIT, August 9.

Board of health report 2 fatal cases of cholera for the past 24 hours.

ALBANY, August 2.

24 cases and 9 deaths by cholera for the last 24 hours.

BUFFALO, August 2.

25 deaths by cholera for the past 24 hours.

ROCHESTER, Noble Co., July 25.

Mr. Tigar:

DEAR SIR—I am aware that at present many fears are felt and expressed on account of the near approach of the cholera.

I am not apt to trouble by long epistles. If any one says he is in fear of the cholera, "tell him to fear not;" fear can do no good, but much harm. The following is the result of my experience in cholera when attending as physician to the Board of Health and stationed on Bluff Rock, near Buffalo, in '32 and '33, lest as fear only to indulge in any sort of intemperance, well defined; that is, eat, drink and sleep much in the usual prudent way; avoid extremes; and especially avoid fear; it is a very depressing passion. Guard well the first invasion of the disease; act prudently, and depend upon it there is not much to fear, for it will be so easily cured that no one will regard it as sickness.

If any one is very timid let him put on a plaster, called Antispasmodic, made adhesive and large enough to cover nearly the abdomen. I used Burgundy pitch, rosin pulverised camphor. If the fear did not abate, a glass of wine and half a grain of morphine at times gave quiet rest and short refreshing sleep. In this way, I am certain, no one took the disease or appeared much afraid.

"The first symptoms are by no means dangerous, but neglect and delay are so. The symptoms are not uniform but in common the gilt appearing diarrhœa, slight nausea, and then vomiting, great thirst for cold water; and neglected, cramps, cold extremity, clammy sweat, &c.

A sensible man will treat the disease upon common principles, and if every glass of water makes him vomit, he will omit the water and allay the irritation; morphine, opium, peppermint, &c., in full dose, with some light food. As soon as sleep is obtained he is safe.

I must not forget to say that the main suffering in cholera is by neglecting the premonitory symptoms. If the early stage is neglected, a collapse may and often is fatal under any sort of management.

I must sincerely concur in the opinion that internal sanatory, and not quarantine, are the

☞ The Board of Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, consisting of Messrs. Charles Butler, of New York, and Thomas H. Blake and Austin M. Puett, of Indiana, closed a session at this place on Thursday, the 26th inst. We understand that a very considerable amount of important business was transacted.

The board determined to let out for construction, in November next, about fifteen miles of the canal, extending from Marysville, in Greene county, the terminus of the recent letting to Petersburgh, in Pike county. The work on the canal south of this place is progressing satisfactorily.

An office for the collection of Tolls was established at Terre-Haute, in anticipation of the completion of the canal to this place this season, and Callum H. Bailey, jr., was appointed collector.

We have been furnished with the following extract from the minutes of the board, by which it will be perceived that the present system of superintendence is to be replaced by one more simple, and which, it is thought, will be decidedly more efficient.

"Ordered—That for the purpose of a more efficient supervision, the navigable portion of the canal be divided into convenient districts of thirty to fifty miles in length, on each of which there shall be placed a Superintendent to continue in office during the pleasure of the board, except as hereinafter authorized, whose duty it shall be, to devote his entire time to the care and management of the canal under the instructions and supervision of the chief Engineer; and such Superintendent shall reside in all cases at some suitable point on the line of the canal:

That the Superintendents be appointed by the Board, and that in filling these stations, preference shall be given to persons having had actual experience as engineers in the construction and management of canals; provided, such experience can be found combined with sufficient energy of character and with habits of economy in the performance of canal work; said Superintendents each to give bond to the board, to be approved by the Resident Trustee or the chief Engineer, in the sum of two thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties and the accounting for all moneys coming into his hands, and also to take an oath of office:

That for the purpose of superintendence the canal be divided into Districts, as follows, to wit: District No. 1, to extend from the State line to Huntington—including the St. Joseph Feeder, distance 50 miles—District No. 2, from Huntington to Peru, distance 36 miles—District No. 3, from Peru to the lower end of the Stack-water near Delphi, distance 40 miles—District No 4, from the Stack-water to the South bank of Flint Creek including Wea feeder, distance 32 miles—District No. 5, from Flint creek to Lodi, including the Shawnee feeder, distance 39 miles.

That the Salary of Superintendents be $750 per annum.

That the office of General Superintendent and Sub-superintendent of the the canal as heretofore established, be, and the same is hereby abolished: provided however, that the present Superintendents shall continue in office until notified by the chief Engineer that Superintendents under these regulations have been appointed.

That the chief Engineer from time to time furnish such record books and abstracts to the Superintendents, and give such instructions to them, as he may deem necessary to show their various expenditures separately, to produce uniformity in their accounts and make them duties easily intelligible, and to combine efficiency with economy, previously consulting with the Resident Trustee when they may conflict with any existing regulations for disbursements or otherwise, and in all cases giving the Resident Trustee due notice of the same: and he it further ordered that it shall be the duty of the chief Engineer on his passing up and down the line, to examine into the manner in which the Superintendents keep their books, papers and accounts, and to see whether in all things they have complied with his instructions.

That the estimates on written contracts for repairs, be hereafter made by the chief Engineer upon data and measurement to be furnished by the respective Superintendents, subject however to the supervision, correction and control of the chief Engineer.

That in vacation, the said Superintendents, for disobedience of orders, negligence of duty, inefficiency, waste or extravagance or other unfaithful conduct in office, be subject to suspension by the State and Resident Trustees; a special report of the same to be made to the Board at their next subsequent meeting, and that in case of any vacancy in vacation, the same shall be filled by the appointment of the chief Engineer until the Board meet."

The Canadian Canals are constantly receiving some new revelations in trade. The Montreal Pilot, of the 14th states, as a result of the completion of the St. Lawrence Canal, that the schooner Pacific has sailed from Toronto to Halifax with a cargo of flour, wheat, peas, barley and malt, the freight being 65 cents per barrel. Two years since it would have been 130 cents, with two transhipments. The cheaper the freight on the St. Lawrence the brisker the competition will be for supplying the Lower British Provinces with produce, &c., between Boston, New York, the Canadas, (and Oswego and Rochester, when the old political barriers are fairly broken down.)

IRELAND.—Sufferings—Transportation of O'Brien and the other Patriot Prisoners.—The sufferings of the people of Ireland continue unabated, particularly in the southwestern districts and in the interior.

The patriot prisoners, O'Brien, Meagher, McManus, and others, have sailed on board of a government vessel for Van Diemen's Land, place to be herded with felons for daring to love their own country, and to procure for her, and her people, equal and just laws.

Previous to their departure they issued an address to their countrymen, which is highly spoken of by the London Times.

FRANCE.—The Elections—English demand for Explanation—Fall of Rome—Cholera in Paris.—The elections to fill thirty vacancies in the National Assembly were going forward quietly at the date of the last news received previous to the sailing of the steamer. The moderate candidates seemed most in favor.

In Paris the Ministerial candidates were all returned. Lamartine and a few other socialists have secured an election.

The Marquis of Normandy has presented a note to the French Government from Lord Palmerston, demanding an explanation of the intentions of the French Government with regard to Rome—how long France intends to occupy Roman Territory, and whether it is ready of to restore the Pope.

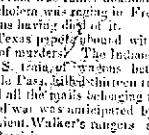
The Legitimate and the Jesuit Journals of Paris are getting up a cry in favor of the absolute and unconditional restoration of the Pope to all his powers, temporal and spiritual. The correspondent of the London Times, writing from Paris, says that no such folly is intended by the French Government.

The official despatch of Gen. Oudinot, giving an account of the final attack on Rome, says that the Romans fought most desperately, disputing every inch of ground, and leaving 450 killed.

Orders have been received at Toulon countermanding the order for the embarkation of new reinforcements. One of the steamers, already at sea, was recalled.

The cholera was rapidly disappearing in Paris.

FOREIGN NEWS.



ARRIVAL OF THE EUROPA.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1849.

The Steamer Europa, with Liverpool dates to the 14th inst., has arrived at Halifax and from thence by express and magnetic telegraph her news has been transmitted to this city.

THE MARKETS, &c.—The tone of business in Liverpool continued active. The market for breadstuffs was however dull, and the quotations of the previous week hardly maintained. Corn has declined 6d. to 1s. Flour, Ohio, 25 a 25s. 6d.; Western Canal 24 a 25s.; Corn nominally 31 a 32s.—sales, to arrive, 28 a 29. Pork meets a free sale. In Bacon there is an extensive sale, though prices are two shillings per cwt. lower than any former week. Shoulders are in better demand than formerly.—Beef is unchanged,—demand but moderate.

ENGLAND.—Progress of the Cholera—The Crops.—The cholera is increasing in London and Liverpool, and seems to be very fatal in Southampton, and upon the entire southern coast.

The crops in England and Ireland appear promising.

The potato disease has appeared in a number of places in England and Ireland.

IRELAND.—Sufferings—Transportation of O'Brien and the other Patriot Prisoners.—The sufferings of the people of Ireland continue unabated, particularly in the southwestern districts and in the interior.

The patriot prisoners, O'Brien, Meagher, McManus, and others, have sailed on board of a government vessel by Van Diemen's Land, place to be herded with felons for daring to love their own country, and to procure for her, and her people, equal and just laws.

ST. LOUIS, Thursday, July 19.

Great Speech of Col. Benton on Slavery.—Col. Benton addressed the people on the 7th inst. at Lexington, Mo., on the Proviso question. He divided his address into two heads—first, the constitution of the Anti Slavery proviso; secondly, the nullification and disunion character of the Missouri resolutions of instruction.

Col. Benton maintained that he introduced the amendment into the Oregon Bill that passed it with a Wilmot Proviso attached, and that it was done to assert the unlimited power of Congress over Slavery in the Territories, and that as a naked, absolute, unconditional exercise of the unlimited power of Congress over the whole subject, the Oregon bill with the anti-Slavery clause received the approving signature of President Polk, with the sanction of his whole Cabinet.

Benton instanced the passage of the Minnesota Territorial Bill, without even objection from Calhoun's, with a similar prohibition.

The Missouri resolutions of instruction Col Benton dissected with great minuteness, showing that their spirit was that of pure nullification, and that if carried out would lead to disunion. He pledged himself and the State of Missouri to sustain Gen. Taylor in preserving the Union against the assaults of Southern fanaticism, and designating the authors of the resolution as Calhoun the Father, Judge Napton the Grammy, and Caleb Johnson the Nurse of the bantling.

The Indians on the Rio Grande.—Governor Wood of Texas, at a meeting held at Victoria, on the 15th of June, complained bitterly of the inefficient manner in which the Texas frontier was defended against the incursions of the Indians. He ridiculed the idea of trying to defend an extended frontier like that, infested by savage horsemen, by the aid of infantry.

In conclusion, says the Corpus Christi Star, upon this subject, he recommended that unless the policy of the General Government was changed in this respect, the State should make war upon the Indians from all points. If the United States Government was forgetful of her duty, and the Indians were not restrained by arms or treaties, the circumstances of the case, and the law of self-defence, rendered it necessary that the State Government should take the matter into its own hands. He knew there was sufficient patriotism and humanity in the people of Texas to pay whatever might be necessary for the protection of our people from the scalping knife.—Pennsylvanian.

Gen. Taylor deserves the scorn, contempt and execrations of mankind, for his wicked dereliction of duty in not defending the innocent victims of savage barbarity on the frontier.

He can set a dummy at Washington, cutting off heads, and persecuting and disgracing as far as it is possible, widows and maimed soldiers who happened to hold office because they are democrats and love their country, while the Indians equally barbarous and ignorant are butchering and debauching men, women and children on the exposed and neglected frontier.

No wonder the democratic authorities of Texas, become ashamed and disgusted with such imbecility, and are about taking the power into their own hands.—Ohio Statesman.

THE BRIDAL POTTON FORGERY CASE in New Orleans, has ended in an acquittal of the defendant, Madame Gallot, as announced by telegraph. The trial is reported in the Picayune at length, and was most interesting.—The prosecutor, Antoine Michaud, prevaricated very much when under cross-examination by the counsel for the defence in relation to his signature to the note, and every thing in the evidence went to show that the note was not a forgery. The allegation that the body of the note had been removed by chemical process, or the signature transferred, was disproved by a chemist. The prisoner made a statement to the jury, written in French, to the effect that Mr. Michaud had been courting her for a long time, and had, in fulfilment of a promise, given her the note in question, as a token of his regard. The jury were only out two minutes and a half. The case has attracted general attention from its singular features.

The counsel for Miss Clement, in his speech, undertook to show that cases of this kind were not altogether novel. It was not an unusual occurrence for elderly gentlemen to become enamored of young females, nor was it uncommon under such circumstances, for "elderly gentlemen" to make presents of their notes to their paramours, sometimes, to be sure, without any intention of paying them. He remembered a very similar occurrence which took place in New Orleans some twenty years since, the particulars of which he gave—and the note in which case was finally paid.

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY.—Battle of Czornet.—We have at last something definite about this battle, in which 23,000 Austrians were said to have been left on the field. The only reality to it, aside from some slight skirmishing, was the defeat by the Hungarians of that portion of Schlick's corps commanded by Gen. Wyss. In this affair the Austrians lost some three or four thousand men. The rest of the reports, the 64 hours fighting and 23,000 killed came from the inventive genius of a banking house of Vienna, and was designed to help a grand speculation in stocks—principally at Berlin, but extended to some other cities.—The inventors have been named to us as Athrons & Co., of Vienna. We find that the Berlin agents of the well known house of Arnstein & Eskeles, Vienna, have published a solemn denial that the story came from them. The National Zeitung, of Berlin, is full of regret at having been the means of aiding the speculators, and the Kolnische Zeitung, whose rather confidential statement of the story we translated last week, is repentant enough for having been taken in to satisfy the most rigorous inflictor of penance.—N. Y. Tribune.

CANADIAN ANNEXATION.—For the purpose of letting our people on this side of the border understand somewhat of the true state of Canadian feeling, among the reform or triumphant party in Canada West, we are furnished with the following extract from a letter from one of the leading members of the Parliament to his friend in this vicinity:

"It is somewhat amusing to note the effects of making a noise in politics. The old highly aristocratic clique in Canada West, feeling themselves completely floored, happily by acts and deeds entirely their own, and knowing that they have lost every chance of, and every pretension to, popular or parliamentary influence, in a spirit of reckless despair have got up this cry of Annexation! Annexation, forsooth! why, they utterly abhor every thing in your constitution and nation. We (the reform party) honestly admire the principles of your constitution and the noble enterprise of your people; and if there were any cause or call for such a step, we could fraternise with you honestly and sincerely. It is quite unnecessary, however, to discuss a matter which will not be for a moment entertained here, except by the old 'Family Compact,' who would, without hesitation, throw us all into mutual confusion, in hopes of picking up a few stray coppers in the fray. That is about the whole amount of the annexation cry, and you need give yourself no further anxiety about such a selfish concern as the 'Tory' party of Upper Canada.—Buffalo Commercial.

How many Drams make an Ounce?—The New Orleans Picayune relates an anecdote of a man in that city who being seized with the premonitory symptoms, was advised to take an ounce of brandy a day, but having no scales in which to weigh it, he luckily recollected that eight drams made an ounce, and accordingly took eight stiff horns and told the doctor that he felt "much better."

Preservation of the Tomato.—Mr. R. B. Morell gives the following:

"The tomato which has come into universal use, and is deemed a luxury by almost every one, may be preserved for winter use in the following manner. When ripe, let them be prepared by stewing as for the table, and to the liking; put them in small jars (1 quart) with covers. Over the top put a piece of linen or cotton cloth, which well cover, and press the cover on; then pour into the cavity melted tallow, and keep them in a cool and dry place in the cellar until required for farther use. They need only to be warmed to serve them for the table. I use small jars for the reason, that when exposed to the air they soon ferment."—Albany Cultivator.

A PRAYER BY KOSSUTH.—The following prayer offered by Kossuth will be interesting to our readers. It was offered by him kneeling amid the multitude, at the grave of the Magyar heroes who fell in the battle of Rapgyina, and was originally published in the Opposition, a journal of Pesth:

Almighty Lord! God of the warriors of Arpad! Look down from thy starry throne upon thy imploring servant, from whose lips the prayer of millions ascend to Thy Heaven, praising the unscarchable power of Thine Omnipotence. O God, over me shines Thy sun, and beneath me repose the relics of my fallen heroic brethren; above my head the sky is blue, and under my feet the earth is dyed red with the holy blood of the children of our ancestors. Let the animating beams of Thy sun fall here that flowers may spring up from the blood, so that these hills of departed beings may not moulder unadorned.—God of our fathers and God of the nations! hear and bless the voice of our warriors, and watch the arm and the soul of brave nation's thunder to break the iron hand of tyranny as it forges its chains. As a free man I kneel on these fresh graves, by the remains of my brothers. By such a sacrifice as theirs Thy earth would be consecrated were it all stained with sin. O God! on this holy soil above these graves no race of slaves can live. O Father! Father of our fathers! Mighty over myriads! Almighty God of the Heaven, the Earth and the Seas! From these bones springs a glory whose radiance is on the brow of my people. Hallow their dust with Thy grace that the ashes of my fallen heroic brethren may rest in peace. Leave us not, Great God of battles! In the holy name of the nations, praised be Thy Omnipotence. Amen.

A new Cure for the Cholera.—It is stated that the remedy recently introduced into the military hospital of Montreal, and recommended and practised by an army surgeon of much experience in the British army, who has published a work on the subject, has been eminently successful in the 19th regiment, composing a part of that garrison. Previous to its use, a number of fatal cases of cholera had occurred; but since the remedy has been administered, every patient had recovered. The recipe is laudanum and ether, made intensely hot with the addition of a solution of red pepper. Twenty drops of this to be taken every five minutes on a lump of sugar.

Gratifying Intelligence.

From every part of the country where Sloan's Ointment and Condition Powders have been introduced, the proprietor has received the most gratifying intelligence of their remark, able effect and popularity. In a multitude of instances, they have triumphed over diseases which had baffled the skill of celebrated Farriers, and were considered incurable. These medicines are rapidly superseding all other remedies now in use for diseased horses and cattle.

☞ See Agents' names at the head of Sloan's Column.—For further particulars and testimonials, get pamphlets & agents.

It is the only sure cure for dropsy. It will give relief in all cases of gravel, and in a less case for that disease in its earlier stages. It will restore to a state of health the diseased liver and kidney, eradicate all the morbid humors which are secreted in the system. It will drive from the body all eruptions. It will expel the cause, of rheumatism and gout, from the blood by its chemical action on that vital fluid. It will cure palpitation of the heart, caused by an undue flow of blood through that organ. It will give life and tone to the digestive organs. It will promote a healthy and proper incrustation perspiration, without which no system could sustain itself. It will completely change the whole man, if discased; body and mind will feel its influence. Dr. C. C. Vaughn's Great American Remedy will do all this, and a trial is the only argument we can offer to support what we have said. We have tried it, have found it, and witnessed, told others, they have not proved its astonishing powers, the press all over the country speak of it, the Agents say it sells better than any medicine ever sold before. The wonder is now living who would have been in their grave but use this article, been presented to them. See our columns, read Agents names, and call and get pamphlets.

There has been a lively competition among wheat buyers this week, under the influence of which some lots of wheat were run up to 78@79 cents, although the most we can be considered as the market price. Flour by the load 3 75; Corn 32; Oats 20; Potatoes 37@40; Onions 62; Butter 8@9; Eggs 8; Cheese 6 a 7; Bacon scarce and in demand—good hams would command 7 cents.

NEW YORK, Aug 2d.—Flour, Western, 4 62 a $5 02; pure Genesee 5 06 a 5 18; Wheat 1 06 Butter 16.

BUFFALO, Aug. 2.—Flour 4 62; Wheat, Ohio, 95; Corn 54.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.

We the undersigned Millers and Commission Merchants doing business in Fort Wayne, in view of the variation in weight, and the shrunken condition of the present wheat crop, and the difficulty (arising from this cause) of giving satisfaction to the sellers, agree to establish the following list of weights, and to be governed by it in all our purchases for the coming season—in the hope of producing a greater uniformity and giving to the different qualities of wheat their proper value:

DIED,—Of Cholera, at Bluffton, Wells Co. Indiana, on Friday the 27th of July, Asahel Edwin, son of A. Aylsworth, Esq. of Granville, Ohio, in the 26th year of his age.

The decease of this young man deserves more than a passing notice. Though retiring and unobtrusive in his deportment, still he was endowed by nature with an affectionate disposition, which seemed to create an atmosphere of kindness around him, that was felt not only by his family and friends but by all with whom he was accustomed to associate.—But a few days previous to his death, he was on a visit to his relatives in this city. Buoyant with health and hope, few among us had apparently a stronger hold on life, and yet with a few hours' sickness he was taken from our midst. His bereaved parents and a large connection of relatives and friends mourn the loss they have sustained by his untimely death.

"How short the race our friend has run—
Cut down in all his bloom;
The course but yesterday begun,
Now finished in the tomb."

CAPT. C. E. MOTT, Teacher in the Academy.
CAPT. W. W. GAUNT, Adjutant of the Institute.

*Educated at West Point. †Educated at the Virginia Military Institute.

Two hundred and thirty Cadets, from fifteen different States, have entered this Institution since it was organized, in 1847. It is entirely free from the control or domination of any sect or party, either political or religious. Economy in dress, in the adoption of a cheap Uniform, for Winter and Summer, is rigidly enforced. Every student is required to select a College guardian, with whom all funds brought or received must be deposited, and no debt must be contracted without the consent of such guardian.

An Institution combining the science of the West Point Academy and of Polytechnic Institutes, with the classical literature of our best Colleges, adding the modern languages, and superadding practical schools of Law and Engineering, nearly realizes the long-felt desideratum of a university able to meet the wants of Western progress—a university whereat may select a course of study to suit their time, means and professional destination.

Mr. Daviess, the Professor of Law, is known in the various Courts as a practitioner of great ability, varied learning, long experience and exalted character. His eminent qualifications, the wholesome exercise and discipline of the Institution, and the convenient observation of the forms of judicial proceedings, offer unusual inducements to those who are earnest to achieve distinction as sound Lawyers.

CIVIL ENGINEERING

Will be thoroughly and practically taught in the Western Military Institute—the Professor, Col Morgan, being one of the most skillful and experienced Engineers in the United States. All the instruments connected with that department, have been procured at considerable cost, and of the best quality.

The Superintendent takes the liberty of stating, that he is now offered seventy-five dollars per month for competent assistant Engineers. One of his former pupils receives at this time $2,500 per annum as Principal Engineer of a Railroad now under construction in Kentucky—while others of the same class are receiving in different parts of the United States, $2000, $1500, and $1000 a year as assistant Engineers.

The time is rapidly approaching when there will be a great demand for such as have been prepared for that vocation at the Western Military Institute. Nothing is hazarded in saying that they will readily command $1200 or $1500 per annum. Every man of observation must see that the gigantic enterprise already proposed, will give birth to hundreds of others, tributary to them. The rapid advancement of our whole country, and the eagerness of our people for exploring the hidden resources of the new States and the newly acquired territory, will give ample scope for ages to come, to the skill and enterprise of the Engineer, the Geologist, the Mineralogist, the Surveyor, and the Architect. Young men who have an aptitude for the Mathematical and Physical sciences, will have a wide field opened to them for engaging in an honorable, a healthful and a lucrative pursuit, for which they may be thoroughly and practically qualified, in a short time, and at small expense, at the Western Military Institute.

Medical Card.

DR. ROBERT McNEILL (late Surgeon in the United States Volunteer Service in Mexico) offers his professional services to the citizens of Fort Wayne and vicinity. In addition to his experience in the army, he has had the advantage of several years' private practice in the West, and will be found familiar with the diseases incident to the western country.

He may be found at his office on Calhoun street, above T. K. Brackenridge's Store, or at the Spencer House, and will be happy to attend to any business entrusted to him, and at all times when not professionally engaged.

Highly Important!

THE Common Council of this city, at their meeting on Monday the 2d inst., Ordered LIME to be procured and distributed throughout the city, in the Streets and Alleys and all low, impure, and unhealthy places. And they earnestly desire and recommend, that the citizens procure Lime and scatter it around their residences, stores, shops, &c., and in their cellars and wherever any impurity exists. By so doing it is confidently hoped we will escape the desolating ravages of the Cholera, which is prevailing to so dreadful an extent in the cities around and near us. WM. STEWART, Mayor.

Election Notice.

State of Indiana, } To the Sheriff of Allen
Allen County, ss: } County, Greeting:

I, ROBERT E. FLEMING, Clerk of the Allen Circuit Court, in said State, do hereby certify that at a general Election to be held in said County, on the first Monday in August, 1849, the following offices are to be filled, to wit:—A Governor of the State; A Lieut. Governor; A Representative to the Congress of the United States; A Representative to the General Assembly of the State; Two County Commissioners.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set [seal.] my hand and the seal of said Court, this 2d day of July, 1849.
R. E. FLEMING, Clerk.

I, Samuel S. Morss, Sheriff of Allen County, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the original, on file in my office. S. S. MORSS, Sh'ff A. C.
July 6, 1849.

NEW CONSTITUTION.

NOTICE is hereby given to the qualified electors of Allen, and State of Indiana, that a poll will be opened at the usual places of holding Elections in the several townships in this county, on the 6th day of August, 1849, in pursuance of the provisions of the following act:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That it shall be the duty of the Inspectors and Judges of Elections in the several townships within each county in this state, at the annual election in August next, to open a poll in which shall be entered all the votes given for or against the calling of a convention to alter, revise or amend the constitution of this State.

Sec. 2. Every qualified voter in this State, may, if he choose, at the annual election in August next, vote for or against the calling of a convention, for the purpose mentioned in the first section of this act.

Sec. 3. The Inspectors of elections at the several places of voting, shall propose to each voter in presenting a ballot the question, "Are you in favor of a convention to amend the constitution?" and those who are in favor of such a convention shall answer in the affirmative, and those who are against such convention shall answer in the negative, which answer shall be duly recorded by the Clerks of such election, and the Clerks of the Boards doing county business shall furnish a poll book with proper columns for that purpose.

Sec. 4. It is hereby made the duty of the Inspectors and Judges of elections to certify the number of votes given for or against a convention to the Clerks of the circuit courts respectively, in the same manner, and under the same restrictions and penalties that votes for State and county officers are given and certified.

A vote will also be taken on the subject of FREE SCHOOLS in this county. The question will be asked of each voter by the Inspector of elections at each polling the county: "Are you in favor of, or opposed to the act of the last Legislature for the establishment of Free Schools?" B. W. OAKLEY,

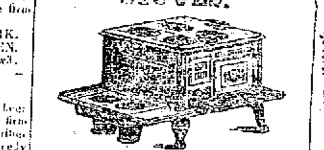
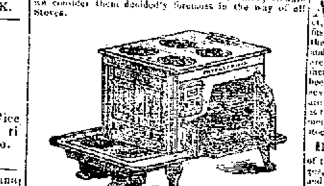
THANKFUL for the favors of the past, would respectfully inform his old customers and the public generally that his Fall and Winter supply has in part arrived, and is still coming; so that by the close of navigation all demands for the season can be promptly filled.

STOVES.



We place the "IMPERIAL AIR TIGHT" first; because we consider them decidedly foremost in the way of all Stoves.



The "UNITED STATES AIR TIGHT" is next, tho' many consider them equal, if not superior to those above—and with these may be classed the Washington and Troy Air Tights and the Queckenboss Air Tights, of Albany.

PREMIUM STOVES.

Among the different kinds of Premium Cooking Stoves we have the "Troy Victory," to the excellent qualities of which all who have ever tried them will readily attest. We selected them as the best premium stove in market, and the increased demand for them induced us to bring on a large assortment. We have also the common premiums from Buffalo and Cincinnati, and last though not least, the "Farmer," with no roses or superficial ornaments, but as well recommended that any one wishing a stove can take it, and bring it back again if it does not work well. Last, & least in the Cooking line stands the great "Hathaway," of Dayton, which we keep on hand for the especial benefit of those who prefer this to a better article.

Parlor Stoves of Cast or Sheet Iron, Dining Room Stoves, Shop and Store Room Stoves of all varieties and sizes from a meeting house to a 15 by 12.

In connection with our Stove trade we have added a small but well selected assortment of Castings and Hardware.

Consisting in the main of all the most essential and necessary articles used by farmers and mechanics.

Our Tin and Copper business is still as noisy as ever, and all hands ready and happy to wait upon those who desire anything in our line. B. W. OAKLEY.

N. B.—Old Copper, Brass, Rags, Ginseng, Beeswax, &c. &c. received in exchange for Goods. B. W. O.

In Advance of the Telegraph!

W. SMITH & Co., No. 3 Jones' Block, respectfully inform the Ladies that they have just received their

SPRING STOCK

Of New and Fashionable GOODS,

embracing every thing to be desirable in the Eastern markets, and which will be sold at prices to Beat the Jews!

The Ladies are invited to call and examine this splendid stock, far exceeding any thing ever brought to the place. Then are peculiarly rich and becoming; their stock of Bonnet Ribbons, is beyond comparison the best ever seen in the west; and as for Lawns, Ginghams, DeLaines, Calicoes, &c., &c., the half of what might truly be said about them would not be believed. Therefore a general invitation is extended to all to call and judge for themselves.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

P. S. Beware of WANDERING JEWS, unless you wish to be shaved; you can buy a good genuine article at No. 3 for considerably less than the small pox pedlers charge for their damaged, imperfect, spurious, flimsy articles, which are made to sell and not to wear.

NEW ARRIVAL

At the Ohio Cash Store.

AYLSWORTH & BORDEN are now receiving their SPRING & SUMMER GOODS suitable for the market, which have been selected with a view to durability and fast colors. Having purchased many of them from first hands, thereby saving one profit, they will be sold at a small advance, and even cheaper than others are selling inferior goods. We are desirous that all goods sold by us should give entire satisfaction, as it regards durability and prices. The goods have been purchased in New York, and not in Cincinnati where several of our merchants have made their purchases, and we are confident that we can sell goods in Fort Wayne as cheap as they do in Cincinnati. This is an important fact to be remembered by those who purchase goods in this city. Our stock is new and fresh, we have a great variety of

of the latest styles, consisting in part of silk and linen bareges, brocade linen lustres, linen, English, Scotch, French, and hair cloth ginghams, balzarines, lawns, figured and plain jaconets every variety of prints. Beautiful plain and embroidered white crape shawls, berage and mous de laine do; canton crape scarfs. Also a large stock of French and English cloths, cassimeres, and tweeds, cotton cloths, plain and figured satin vestings, figured and plain sarge de rhone vestings, fancy do; plain brocha vestings, Kentucky and cotton jeans, summer cloth, cottonades, satinets, &c. A large stock of gloves and hosiery of every description.

BONNETS.—Beautiful French braid bonnets, French lace mourning do; Rough and Ready, China, pearl, leghorn, and English straw do; Misses Jenny Lind do, open braid and leghorn flats. ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS of every variety, mourning sprigs; also a splendid stock of

HATS.—Fashionable silk hats, English, Dunstable, and Rutland, do Pedal, and plain and colored leghorn; also a magnificent stock of BOOTS AND SHOES.—Ladies' black and colored walking and dress gaiters, Congress half gaiters, Excelsiors, slippers and walking shoes, Misses' gaiters, slippers and morocco boots, children's shoes of every description and size.

Carpets and Rugs.

We have in store fine ingrain and Venitian carpets, Wilton and tufted rugs, Brussels carpet bags and satchels. We would here say to the public that we have made extensive arrangements with a house in New York, to enable us to open a carpet room, where we will during the course of the summer receive a large and splendid stock, and shall keep constantly on hand every variety of carpeting used in the West, together with oil floor cloths, matting, druggets, rugs, &c., and will sell them as cheap as a single carpet can be purchased in Cincinnati, or a small advance over New York costs.

We are daily expecting a large stock of sheetings and domestic goods, Hardware, Queensware, Groceries, &c., shipped by the Erie Canal.

WANTED.—All kinds of Produce the Farmer has to dispose of in exchange for goods, at the lowest cash prices. We will take all the butter offered at the highest market price.—Don't forget the place, in Hamilton's block. Store formerly occupied by Thomas Hamilton, second store from the corner. Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore received, we are determined to sell our goods very cheap, that we may merit the continuation of the same.

SLOAN'S COLUMN.

☞ All the Medicines advertised by W. B. Sloan are sold by merchants, Druggists, &c. in nearly every town in all the Western States, and by Dr. L. Beecher, Fort Wayne.

The best and cheapest Horse Medicine in the World.

SLOAN'S OINTMENT AND CONDITION POWDER, have earned a great name. For Purity, Mildness, Safety, Certainty and Thoroughness, Sloan's Ointment excels, and is rapidly superseding all other Ointments and Liniments now in use for the cure of the following diseases:

Fresh Wounds, Galls of all kinds, Sprains, Bruises, Cracked Heels, Ringbone, Windgalls, Poll Evil, Callus, Spavins, Sweeney, Fistula, Sitfast, Strains, Lameness, Sand Crack, Foundered Feet, Scratches or Grease Mange, or Horn Distemper.

The Powder will remove all inflammation and fever, purify the blood, loosen the skin, cleanse the water, and strengthen every part of the body; and has proved a sovereign remedy for the following diseases: Distemper, Hide Bound, Loss of Appetite, Inward Strain, Yellow Water, Inflamation of the Eyes, Fatigue from hard exercise; also, Rheumatism, (commonly called stiff complaint,) which proves so fatal to many valuable horses in this country. It is also a sure, and certain remedy for coughs and colds which generate so many fatal diseases.

W. B. SLOAN,
Grand Depot, 40 Lake St., Chicago, Illinois

The Proof.

Extract from the Galena Northwestern Gazette.

☞ By the use of Sloan's Ointment and Condition Powder, I have entirely cured a Fistula on a horse and otherwise improved his condition more than 500 per cent., on the cost of the ointment. And a cow which was so feeble as to be considered worthless by myself and neighbors, was restored to good health and strength, in the use of less than half a package of the powders, and is now doing better than any other cow I have. WM. VINCENT.
Small Pox, May 13, 1848.

THE SUFFERING CHILD.

I hereby certify that one of my children, when naked, fell into a large fire of live coals, and was burned severely from head to feet. The best of medical aid and attention was given to the child for four or five days without any relief—each day's suffering increased till his groans could be heard at a great distance, at which critical period one of my neighbors recommended and presented to me a box of SLOAN'S OINTMENT, and in less than fifteen minutes after the application of the Ointment to the aggravated sores of the suffering child, the pain ceased entirely, and he speedily began to recover. My residence is in Holt Township, Vermilion county, and State of Indiana.
Theodore Le Tayl...
Dated at Chicago, Aug. 24, 1848.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE.

April 13th, 1848. Four miles north of Chicago, (on the road to Milwaukie,) Cook County, Illinois.

Mr. Sloan—Dear Sir: One of my horses had a large bony tumor on his breast bone, immediately under the collar, which lamed him, and rendered his services of very little value. I then procured Wilder's Celebrated Horse Ointment, and used that, until I became fully satisfied that it would never relieve the animal. Finally I obtained a box of your truly valuable Ointment, and in less than sixty days from the first application the tumor entirely disappeared, and the horse was well.
Yours, Edward Armstrong.

POPULAR OPINION.

If popular opinion is any criterion of the worth of an article, we invite the incredulous to read at least a few of the many voluntary certificates that appear in our columns respecting the great variety of remarkable cures effected by the use of "Sloan's Celebrated Ointment and Condition Powders."

These remedies no longer remain among those of doubtful utility, they have passed from the tide of experiment, and now stand higher in reputation and are becoming more extensively used than all other articles of the kind.—Ind. City News.

The half has not been told.

Fox River, June 12, 1848.

Dr. Sloan—Sir: Please send by the bearer a new supply of your Horse Medicines. They are the best of the kind that I have ever used, never having been disappointed in their effects. I have been in the use of other, even the most celebrated Ointments, Liniments, &c., of the day. I like very much this feature in them, that they do all that is promised, and now a thorough trial one is constrained to add, that "half has not been told."
Respectfully, M. Dudley.

THE DIFFERENCE.

The ordinary Ointments and Liniments it is well known, are severe and partial in their operation. Sloan's Ointment is mild yet thorough—it reaches and removes the cause, hence it gives a real and permanent relief.

For purity, mildness, safety, certainty, and thoroughness, Sloan's Ointment excels, and is rapidly superceding all other Ointments and Liniments now in use.

WE CAN'T GET ALONG WITHOUT IT.

Beebe's Grove, Will Co., Ill.,
October 24, 1848.

Mr. Sloan—

Sir: I have tested the virtue of your Ointment in the cure of rattlesnake bites, sore throat, burns, and many other injuries, and in every case it has surpassed our expectations. As a family Ointment, I have never seen its equal, and for beasts we can't get along without it.
Yours, &c., Miles M. Jones.

Excellent Ointment.

Mr. Sloan— Dear Sir: For a considerable length of time I was seriously afflicted with a Rheumatic complaint, and applied freely of various liniments, pain killers, &c., without receiving relief. After which your Agent at this place influenced me to try your Ointment, and within two weeks from the time I commenced using it, the pain ceased, and I was effectually cured, and shall recommend all who are similarly afflicted with the distressing complaint, to procure your excellent ointment without delay.
Respectfully yours, Oscar F. A...
Princeville, Peoria Co., May 1, 1848.

☞ From the Hon. H. V. S. Brooks, Agent of the Illinois and Michigan Canal Packet Boat Company.

Chicago, June 24, 1848.

Dr. W. B. Sloan—

Dear Sir: For the last 30 years I have had occasion to use many horses, and have used the great variety of Liniments and Ointments of the day, but have never found any thing equal to your Ointment for injuries on horses. Within the last two months I have applied your Ointment to some 80 horses, for various injuries, and in no instance it has proved a sure sign remedy.

A FINGER BITTEN ENTIRELY OFF.

Two miles south of Chicago, Sept. 18...

Dr. Sloan—Sir: On the 5th instant my son had a finger bitten entirely off by a horse. I immediately applied your celebrated Ointment which relieved him of pain in a few moments, prevented the finger from swelling the least, and the wound is healing rapidly.
52 Respectfully yours, S. Parker...

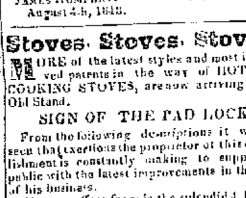
Stoves, Stoves, Stoves!

MORE of the latest styles and most improved patents in the way of HOT AIR COOKING STOVES, are now arriving at the Old Stand,

SIGN OF THE PAD LOCK.

From the following descriptions it will be seen that exertions the proprietor of this establishment is constantly making to supply the public with the latest improvements in the line of his business.
He now offers for sale the splendid 4 Boiler

Niagara Hot Air Cooking STOVE.



Warranted to economise fifty per cent in the amount of fuel it uses, and the time it takes to boil or bake, over any other stove in use in this or any other country.
The next is the same man's patent of 3 Boiler

Niagara Hot Air Cooking Stove,

which takes in nearly three feet wood, with all the advantages of the other. (See plate above.
These Stoves took the first premium at a recent fair of the Erie County agricultural society, New York.
Next comes the good old EMPIRE HOT AIR COOKING STOVE, which is so well known in this country, with two ovens, one being portable. Also, the

Hathaway Hot Air Cooking Stove,

the excellent qualities of which will be readily testified to, by a number of families in Fort Wayne, who have them in use,—the proprietor's own family being one of that number. The next is another new stove called the

Knickerbacker Hot Ai[r],

which is now having a great run in the East, and no doubt will run quite as fast in the West, as soon as it is seen and its qualities understood.
Then comes the Premium Cooking Stoves all sizes;
The Noncondensing Hot Air Parlor Stoves;
The Ten and Seven Plate Stoves;
All of them are made of the best and heaviest Castings, and are Warranted to stand fire.

without breaking.
After these comes the Russia Sheet Iron Parlor Office Stoves, made to order, any size that may be wanted.
TIN WARE manufactured and sold whole sale at Eastern prices. Country merchants will find it to their advantage to call here for their supplies of this article.
Tin Plate, Sheet Copper Sheet Iron and Block Tin kept constantly on hand and for sale to the trade, at the New York Hardware Store, sign of the Pad Lock.

No Cure No Pay.

I Would inform the world that I have a Remedy for curing or healing Ruptures, without any pain in the operation, and without even seeing the place thus ruptured. Some of the wise and learned may laugh and scorn at the proposition, but don't be too fast, this is no new notion, my father has practiced the Remedy over forty years in the East, and I have cured three persons myself. I give this to the public, because I believe it to be my duty to do all the good I can to my fellows. WM. IBA.
And I would also request editors of papers in the Country to make a short paragraph of the above in their sheets, and by so doing they will confer a blessing on some of their patrons. 6m38

Against loss or damage on the cargoes of Steam, Keel, Canal, and Flat Boats, while navigating the Western Rivers, Lakes, and Canals.
On account of the liberal patronage heretofore extended to said Company, they have been enabled greatly to reduce their rates of Insurance, so that now every man has an opportunity, for a trifling sum, to protect himself against the ravages of these destructive elements.
For terms of Insurance, apply to the subscriber, at the office, of Hough & Turner, on Calhoun street, north of the Spencer House.
R. D. TURNER.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING BEEN appointed an agent for said company, is authorized to make every kind and nature of Insurance appertaining to Life Risks, for a certain number of years or for life, grant annuities, and confer endowments.
The provisions of the charter of said company are peculiarly favorable to the assured containing many important privileges, which experience has proved may be safely granted, and which are deemed superior to any heretofore offered in this country.
Married women may insure the lives of their husbands, secure from the demands of creditors.
Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the benefit of creditors.
The assured after a term of years, may at any time surrender the policy and receive its equitable value in cash.
The subject of Life Insurance is attracting much attention in the Eastern States, and recommends itself to the favorable consideration of all, as by this means a comfortable support may be left to the wife and children when misfortune comes upon them, and the husband and father is taken from their embrace by the cold hand of death.
Pamphlets explanatory of the uses and benefits arising from Life Insurances, will be furnished those wishing to be insured.
The undersigned is also agent for the HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD, CONN.

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

There is no real occasion for sickness!

Dr. Ralph's Pills,

FOUNDED on the only principle on which a UNIVERSAL MEDICINE can safely and conscientiously be recommended to the world! They are fast superceding every other remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Acidity, Heartburn, Costiveness, all Impurities of the blood, Biliousness, Liver Diseases, Fever & Ague, the diseases of WESTERN CLIMATE, &c. The reason is obvious—they act in PERFECT ACCORDANCE WITH NATURE.
Their operation is exceedingly mild and pleasant, and if taken in accordance with the directions, which are remarkably plain and clear,
THEY CANNOT FAIL TO CURE
and to perfectly prevent disease of every kind (see explanation of the new theory in the "Ralphian" an invaluable paper which may be had gratis of the agents.) Their unexampled success in all the complaints of FEMALES, and those attending pregnancy, is acknowledged by thousands.
NO FEMALE SHOULD BE WITHOUT THEM.
Testimonials of cures, of every disease the human system is liable to, often after all other means had failed, are consequently being received at the Central Office, N. Y. City.
Price 25 cents a box, with full directions, and Family packages at $1, (in which is much saving.)
J. B. Hanna, Fort Wayne, having been appointed general agent, will supply this celebrated medicine, wholesale and retail, on the same terms as at the Central Office.
June 15, 1848. 39
Read the following testimony from W. W. Steevens, principal of the Classical & Commercial Academy, Fort Wayne, Ind.:
"Having had repeated opportunities for the last fourteen years of witnessing the great benefits various persons have derived from the use of Doctor RALPH'S PILLS, and knowing Doctor RALPH to be a graduate of the University of Edinburg, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, and of the Medical College of the State of New York; also a Physician of Long, Extensive and successful Practice, I cordially recommend said Pills to all who may be afflicted with diseases for which the Pills are recommended, believing they will perform all that is promised for them if the directions for using them be strictly followed.
W. W. STEEVENS.
Fort Wayne, July, 1846.
"DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request I would state that I have used Doctor RALPH'S PILLS in my family for something like ten years, and am satisfied that they are an excellent family Medicine. I have no doubt but that the use of them has at different times saved myself and family much sickness and expense.
HUGH MILLER."
To J. B. HANNA.
The above Pills can be had at wholesale of J. B. HANNA, General Agent at Fort Wayne.
They are also sold at retail by A. B. Miller, Ligonier; E. D. Bartlett & Co., La Grange Centre; C. R. Walker, Fort Wayne; DeFrees, Wolf Lake; Peter Haller Eel River; Robert Dykes, Ontario; J. N. Alderman, May's Mill; L. S. Bayless, Bayless's Mills.

THE IMMENSE

Mineral Wealth of California

HAS induced thousands to abandon the comforts of home and brave the hardships and horrors of a trip across the Rocky Mountains, or the perils of a passage round Cape Horn, all of which may now be avoided, and as fair a chance found of making money at home. It is an old adage that a penny saved is two-pence earned; there is no trouble in making money here, the only thing is, to keep it after it is made. This may in a great measure be accomplished by buying at

B. MASON'S Celebrated Cheap Store,

where goods can be had so cheap that none who make all their purchases there can fail to save enough to make themselves rich, and that too without running the risks necessary to pick up gold on the Sacramento.
A large stock of SPRING & SUMMER GOODS has just been received, including a beautiful assortment of

Fancy Dress Goods.

Silks, Bareges, Linen Lustres, Lawns, Linen Poplins, Lawns, Ginghams, Lawns, White Lawns, Swiss Mulls, Plaid Mulls and Jaconetts, Victoria Lawns, Nankeens, Calicoes, &c. White and Red Crape, Embroidered Crape, Berage, and Silk SHAWLS, Parasols—a splendid assortment. Fans of every variety. Ladies' and Gents' Gloves. Leghorn, Palm Leaf, and Straw Hats. Besides all kinds of staple goods, such as Shirtings, Sheetings, Checks, Drillings, and all sorts of Summer Wear.
It is needless to say more than that the stock now on hand at this establishment fully equals all former ones, and is offered at even less than Mason's unrivalled low prices. Call and satisfy yourselves.
The stock of GROCERIES is large, and all of the choicest quality—nothing else is ever kept; and they will be sold as Cheap or CHEAPER than the inferior articles offered in some of the blowing gas-houses in this city. DYE STUFFS—Madder, Indigo, Alum, &c.
QUEENSWARE—A large and most beautiful assortment of the latest styles.
HARDWARE.—A full stock, which is offered very low.
Every thing in the shape of BOOTS AND SHOES, from a Stoga Boot to a Baby's Shoe—including Misses' Gaiters, Slippers, Walking Shoes, &c., and Gents' Calf Boots, Water Proof Boots, Shoes, Bootees, &c. &c. at very reduced prices.
HATS AND CAPS in great variety—from a Broadway Bee Tee to a shilling cap.
STATIONERY.—He has also a large stock of Stationery—including School Books, Cap and Letter Paper, Envelopes, &c. &c.
Also an endless variety of NOTIONS—such as Steel Beads, Clasps, and Purse Twists; Combs in great variety;—Travelling Bags; Pen and Pocket Knives, and every thing else that is neat, tasty, fashionable or desirable.
SALT & WHITE FISH by the bbl. NAILS & GLASS.
In short, buyers will find any thing and every thing they can ask for, and for CASH can have such bargains as they have never dreamt of. All kinds of PRODUCE, Deer Skins &c. taken in exchange for Goods.

Notice to Farmers and PRODUCE DEALERS.

THE undersigned having leased the well known CITY MILLS, in Fort Wayne, heretofore run by Hamilton & Williams, take this method of saying to all interested that they are prepared and ready to Flour promptly any quantity of Wheat, on the most reasonable terms.
Farmers who have Custom Work or Grists to grind will always find one or more Run of Stones in readiness for this purpose.

Notice.

THE Firm of SAMUEL HANNA & SONS was dissolved in July last. This is to give notice to all concerned, that the notes and accounts due said firm, both in this county and Noble, have been put in the hands of Mr. Wm. C. Taylor for collection, who is authorized to receive and receipt for the same. Many persons owing have been repeatedly called on for payment, and as often neglected to pay, until I have become ashamed to ask them again, but I assure all persons indebted that unless their attention is immediately directed to the subject, they will find those claims in the hands of an officer for collection.

We are not disposed to puff ourselves into notoriety, like some of our neighbors, as we believe actions speak louder than words; but intend that all who give us a call shall be satisfied that better bargains can be had at this establishment than at any gas house in the city. Those who want genuine good articles at fair prices will find this the place to purchase. Persons living in the country, even if they do not want to trade over $5, will save money, by harnessing up their teams, coming here and getting articles they will have some satisfaction in wearing, instead of trading with those Itinerant Israelites who are now flooding the country with their trash.
A SAVING OF AT LEAST FIFTY PER CENT will be the natural consequence of taking his advice. Call and try.

GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY

WESTERN NEW YORK

COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

207 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. G. C. VAUGHN'S

Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture.

THIS celebrated remedy is constantly increasing its fame by the many cures it is making
ALL OVER THE WORLD.
It has now become the only medicine for family use, and particularly recommended for DROPSY;
all stages of this complaint immediately relieved, no matter of how long standing. See Pamphlet for testimony.
GRAVEL,
and all diseases of the urinary organs; for these distressing complaints it stands alone; no other article can relieve you and the cures noticed will convince the most skeptical; see pamphlet. Liver Complaint, Bilious diseases,
FEVER AND AGUE.
To the Great West especially, and wherever these complaints prevail this medicine is offered.
NO MINERAL AGENT,
no deleterious compound is a part of this mixture, it cures these diseases with certainty and celerity, and does not leave the system torpid. See Pamphlet.
PILES,
a complaint of a most painful character, is IMMEDIATELY RELIEVED,
and a cure follows by a few days use of this article: it is far before any other preparation for this disease, or for any other disease originating from impure blood. See pamphlet.
DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM,
weak back, weakness of the Kidneys, &c., or inflammation of the same, is immediately relieved by a few days use of this medicine, and a cure is always a result of its use. It stands as
A CERTAIN REMEDY
for such complaints, and also for derangements of the female frame. IRREGULARITIES, SUPPRESSIONS, painful menstruations. No article has ever been offered except this which would touch this kind of derangements. It may be relied upon as a sure and effective remedy, and did we feel permitted to do so could give as proof of cures in this distressing class of complaints. See pamphlet. All broken down, debilitated constitutions from the effect of mercury, will find the bracing power of this article to act immediately, and the poisonous mineral eradicated from the system.
A THOUSAND NAMES
ERUPTIVE DISEASES
will find the alterative properties of this article
PURIFY THE BLOOD,
and drive such diseases from the system. See pamphlet for testimony of cures in all diseases, which the limits of an advertisement will not permit to be named here. Agents give them away; they contain 32 pages of certificates of high character, and a stronger
ARRAY OF PROOF
of the virtues of a medicine, never appeared. It is one of the peculiar features of this article that it never fails to benefit in any case, and if bone and muscle are left to build upon let the emaciated and lingering invalid
HOPE ON,
and keep taking the medicine as long as there is an improvement. The proprietor would
CAUTION THE PUBLIC
against a number of articles which come out under the head of SARSAPARILLAS, SYRUPS, &C., as cures for Dropsy, Gravel, &c.: They are good for nothing and concocted to gull the unwary;
TOUCH THEM NOT.
Their inventors never thought of curing such diseases till this article had done it. A particular study of the pamphlet is earnestly solicited.
Agents and all who sell the article are GLAD TO CIRCULATE
gratuitously. Put up in 30 oz. bottles, at $2; 12 oz. do at $1 each—the larger holding 6 oz. more than two small bottles. Look out and not get imposed upon. Every bottle has "Vaughn's Vegetable Lithontriptic Mixture," blown upon the glass, the written signature of "G. C. Vaughn" on the directions, and "G. C. Vaughn, Buffalo," stamped on the cork. None other are genuine. Prepared by Dr. G. C. Vaughn, and sold at the Principal Office, 207 Main street, Buffalo, at wholesale and retail. No attention given to letters unless post paid—orders from regularly constituted Agents excepted; post paid letters, or verbal communications soliciting advice, promptly attended to, gratis.
Offices devoted exclusively to the sale of this article—132, Nassau street, New York city; 295 Essex street, Salem, Mass, and by the principal Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as agents.

Cash for 20,000 Bushels OF WHEAT,

At the Empire Mills.

WE are prepared to pay Cash and the HIGHEST PRICE for 20,000 bushels of good merchantable Wheat.
Farmers and Teamsters will save themselves much trouble and expense by driving directly up to the STONE MILLS and unloading; they will always get the highest price, and avoid the annoyance of being pestered by the barkers and whipper snappers from the Stores, who now infest our streets and are such a bore to all who bring wheat to our market. We are not much given to boasting; but as some of our neighbors are talking of wanting 10,000 bushels of wheat, we would inform wheat raisers that we can take in 20,000; as our Mill besides being the best, is the biggest, the highest, and the strongest in the country. We have a convenient WAGON-YARD and STABLE, for teams coming to the Mill, and a HOUSE for the Teamsters; we always furnish feed for the horses and occasionally throw in Supper and Breakfast for the drivers. This is nothing new with us—we have always thought it our duty to do so, and should not now mention it if our neighbors had not set the example.
We keep constantly on hand FLOUR OF THE BEST QUALITY and all kinds of Mill Stuff; and promptly grind every thing in the shape of Custom Work—always excepting White Oak Tan Bark, or the "face of the Poor."
